DELEGATES PARADE.

Special Wire to The Herald.

Baltimore, Md., June 27.—Only about half of the delegates in their seats at the noon hour when Convention opened, and there was little enthusiasm among them.

Tremendous crowds and air of excitement are around the outside of the hall and in the galleries. Bands, with Wilson, Clark and Bryan adherents parading around the hall. Senator Luke Lea, of Tennessee, floor leader of the progressives, says: "We will fight every inch of the way in the South Dakota and Illinois contests." It is believed, nevertheless, that efforts are being made with fair prospects of success to compromise these fights and thus shorten the session.

12:45 Chairman Parker rapps for order.

MRS. ROOSEVELT THERE.

Mrs. Roosevelt is in the Senate gallery with friends. Every prospect of an exciting session. Lively fighting is expected over South Dakota and Illinois contests. Speech of Ollie James, permanent chairman, will follow and he will probably not conclude until five o'clock.

After James' speech a recess of two or three hours is probable, but the nominating speeches may follow his speech without a recess. Ballot on candidates will be taken some time before the session adjourns tonight.

THE PLATFORM WORK.

Later.—Sub-committee on drafting platform referred planks to committee consisting of Bryan and O'Gorman. Bryan work at 11 o'clock this morning and will report back to sub-committee at 4 o'clock and full committee at 7 o'clock. The platform may not go to the convention until tomorrow.

When asked about his plans for continuing the fight against "conservatism," Bryan said that the fight had already been won. That he intends fighting throughout the convention for a progressive platform and progressive candidate seems more and more apparent. Neither Clark nor Wilson forces know their own strength. The latter's steering committee vote on first ballot will be approximately 325. The expected break to come on third ballot. Say upsetting Unit rule favorable to him.

First business before convention was South Dakota contests where there were three Democratic tickets, Wilson, Bryan, Clark, another Wilson, another Clark. Majority of credentials committee added votes for first ticket to vote for second and seated second set of delegates, Clark men.

HARMON TO STICK.

Harmon claims not withdrawn and that his name will be presented.

WILSON DEMONSTRATION.

Delegates grow weary of the long debate on South Dakota cases and call for vote. Mention of Wilson starts demonstration.

Harmon Managers Discouraged Over the Outlook.

Baltimore, Md., June 27.—By extraordinary convention proceedings, the big Wilson demonstration and the breaking own of the Ohio unit rule by the Wilson-Bryan forces, Governor Harmon has been eliminated as a presidential candidate, and his managers decided that it would be best that his name be not presented. They are in conference with the governor today and hope to get his approval of this plan. It is felt that he should not be put up to be slaughtered in the convention.

Fifth Regiment Armory, Baltimore, Md., June 27.—When Temporary Chairman Parker rapped for order shortly after the noon hour today, the armory was filled with a tired but enthusiastic crowd of delegates and visitors, anxious to witness the big show of the convention—the nomination of the presidential ticket.

The men behind the scenes who are handing out the dope on the result of the contest predict that Clark is losing strength, while Woodrow Wilson is making steady gains. United States Senator John W. Kern of Indiana and Mayor Gaynor of New York are looming up as possibilities for a compromise candidate. Speaker Clark's action in throwing his strength to Judge Parker for temporary chairman is the cause of the trouble, and it may result in his undoing as a candidate. Rumbles were heard among many of the Clark delegates, and the men who are engineering the Clark boom were plainly anxious.

Baltimore, June 27.—The action of the Ohio Democratic convention in applying the unit rule, binding 19 delegates elected for Wilson at the district primaries to vote for Harmon, was reversed by the Democratic national convention last night by a vote of 555 1/2 to 495 2/6. It was a surprising overthrow of the conservative forces that had been in control of the convention. When the resolution was announced the Wilson partisans made a rousing demonstration.

Ohio's vote on the unit rule abolition was years 20 1/2, says 25.

The evening session of the convention was called to order at 8:30 by Judge Parker, after which the Rev. T. O. Crouse of the Mount Royal M. E. church made the prayer.

The temporary chairman recognized Congressman J. Harry Covington of Maryland, chairman of the committee on rules. The single feature of his report which varied from the usual routine was the proposed resolution that the candidates be nominated before the platform was adopted. He spoke in advocacy of the innovation and moved the adoption of the report. A roar of ayes followed the putting of the question and there was not a single no.

The rules committee chairman then reported a rule that delegates elected at primaries shall be bound by the unit rule. This started the rule fight of the night session. The rule touched the state of Ohio, where 19 Wilson men had been tied to the Harmon people by the unit rule, although a majority of the voters in their districts had instructed them for Wilson.

Mr. Covington announced that it had been arranged by him and Congressman Henry of Texas, representing the minority of the committee, to devote two hours to debate. The announcement did not please many delegates and there were loud shouts of "no."

Mr. Henry, who introduced the resolution in congress to investigate the money trust, read the minority report and gave way to Mr. Covington, who defended the unit rule as Jeffersonian doctrine. The rule was a progressive institution, he added.

Mr. Henry said he was surprised that a report should be presented by Mr. Covington forbidding a delegate to vote as his district instructed him, especially since Maryland has a law to the contrary.

"In Ohio the legislature took away from the political committees the right to name delegates, but put into the statutes the provision that they should be elected by the people by districts," said Mr. Henry. He said further:

The Ohio Democratic convention split upon the will of the people. For this convention to reverse the will of the people would be a mockery of self-government."

Henry was loudly applauded by the Wilson men. The conservatives sat quiet.

Mr. Covington yielded to John W. Peck of Ohio. Mr. Peck said the minority report was artfully drawn. The last three elections in Ohio had been carried by the Democrats, said Mr. Peck, as the crowd jeered, and he felt that he had the right to be heard. A second later he casually mentioned that "great governor of New Jersey," and instantly the Harmon speaker had started a Wilson demonstration that was greater than anything in the convention for noise and spontaneity. The New Jersey delegation began it and it spread all over the hall, except, of course, in the Indiana, Illinois and New York delegations. So stirring was the scene that Mr. Murphy, William F. Sheehan and other New York delegates stood up for a moment to take it in.

Senator John Sharp Williams, who is a Wilson adherent, was on the platform for the first time, waiting to speak for the minority report. When there was any indication that the racket might subside, and there wasn't a little sign of it after seven minutes, Senator Williams waved his slouch hat, urging on the delegates to greater enthusiasm. Another Wilson man, ex-Governor Edwin S. Warfield of Maryland, was on the platform. His white hair, ruddy face and white mustache and goatee made him a conspicuous figure, and again and again he waved a large straw hat.

Behind the Texas delegation were two women in pink. They stood on the chairs. One of them waved a banner with a picture of Wilson on it. The other had a banner with a picture of Speaker Clark, but it made no difference to the pink lady. She waved Champ Clark's picture and shouted "Wilson, Wilson!"

Surprised Peck.

The most surprised man in the hall was Delegate Peck, who had touched the oratorical match to the Wilson boom.

Over in the west gallery 32 men unfurled a banner with the inscription, "Stanton, Va., Woodrow Wilson's birthplace. Great was the din then. An effort was made to stop the demonstration by having the band play the "Star Spangled Banner." Everybody, the delegates and the galleries, stood. But when the band stopped only a few of the delegates sat down. Another trial was made by the band, this time with "We Won't Go Home Till Morning." It had no effect.

"While the demonstration was on the 19 Wilson men in the Ohio delegation became frantic. The Harmon men sat sullen and silent. The Wilson men shouted to them, badgered them, and the Harmon men got no comfort from any one.

As the Wilson demonstration slackened, Underwood's partisans suddenly sprang to their feet and began cheering frantically. An Alabama delegate tore the wrappings from a brand new two-handed banner and held it up in black letters the crowd read: "What is the issue? The tariff. What is the answer? Underwood." Pictures of the house leader were waved from the galleries and upheld from the Alabama, Mississippi and Florida delegations.

At that moment a tall, heavy-set young man in white flannels, L. B. Russell of Elizabeth, N. J., who had been standing on a bench in the press stand, as he turned round and round waving a big lithograph of Wilson, interfered with a hard-working reporter, Arthur Brisbane. Mr. Brisbane's writing arm was jogged several times and he finally got mad. He ordered the Wilson roster to get out of the press enclosure. When white flannels refused to budge, Brisbane threw him off the bench and a Baltimore cop yanked him the rest of the way to the main floor. There was a row on in a second, with the whole crowd of delegates delighted at the prospects of a fight. But white flannels cooled off, was readmitted to

THE UNIT RULE.

The most progressive step thus far taken by the Democratic National Convention, was the smashing of the un-Democratic, un-Republican, un-American and iniquitous unit rule.

Adoption of this rule by the Ohio Democratic State convention, the effect of which was, if permitted by the National convention, to vote for Harmon in that body, nineteen Ohio delegates who had been elected by the party voters at a direct primary election as Wilson delegates. If permitted to obtain the expressed will of the party voters was nullified by a delegate body, selected long after the National delegates were elected.

The action of the National Convention in unyoking these nineteen Ohio delegates is the death-blow to the slight hopes which the backers of Governor Harmon held for his success.

The abrogation of the Unit rule is a tremendous step in the right direction and in that particular brings the Democratic party up with the Republican party, which long ago pushed it into the discard.

The action of the convention Wednesday promises much more of hope in the way of progressive platform and candidates and if the present trend continues the promises that the regular order of political routine, campaign and election, will be seriously disturbed, are not so bright.

The line-up of the delegates on the proposal to abolish the Unit rule presents an entire change of front from that of Tuesday when the vote on temporary chairman was taken.

THE SAFE AND SANE FOURTH.

Each year since 1903 The Journal of the American Medical Association has been waging a propaganda against the insensate maiming and death-dealing methods of celebrating our independence holiday.

It is gratifying to observe that more and more the constituted authorities have recognized that it is their duty to prevent the burning and the crippling of children and their death from lockjaw by prohibiting the sale of fireworks and like destructive agencies. Official appreciation of this fact is evidenced by the enactment and enforcement of appropriate ordinances. Many officials have in the most salutary way co-operated with non-governmental agencies interested in the safe and sane Fourth. Legislation against fireworks has been restrictive or prohibitive. The latter, of course, gives the best results.

In European countries occasions akin to our Independence Day are commemorated by means of fetes and other picturesque ceremonies, quite adequately, just as heartily and with as much patriotic fervor as among us. Continental peoples have a genius for festivities, national as well as all other kinds. For adult patriotism, oratory may suffice; but this is not satisfying to the youth of the land. In the legitimate interests of boyhood and girlhood, things equally brilliant and satisfactory must be substituted for the noise, the flare and the varicolored flame; and substitutes even more resplendent have been found in abundance. We have now methods by which the Fourth shall cease to be a day of terror, and shall become instead one of happiness, recreation and enlightenment. Noise is now being replaced by music—the music of bands, and of choruses drilled weeks before-hand by skilled leaders, and the singing of national airs and popular songs. There are tableaux, plays, floats devised by artists, representing historic and patriotic incidents and achievements; parades in which the Army and Navy, the police and fire departments, the militia, school children and industrial organizations take part; picnics and excursions and pink lemonade, peanuts, ice cream and watermelon sufficient to satisfy the most anacondan digestion; parks and other public places and buildings, both public and private, gorgeously illuminated by electricity; children's carnivals and dances; school celebrations; athletic sports, with distribution of copies of the Constitution, and so on.

And no maimings, no burnings, no killings, no lockjaw!

Educated Farmers More Needed Than Lawyers

By JAMES WILSON, Secretary of Agriculture

THE DEMAND OF THE UNITED STATES FOR LAWYERS AND PHYSICIANS IS MORE THAN MET BY THE PROFESSIONAL SCHOOLS, WHILE THE DEMAND FOR EDUCATED FARMERS IS STRIKINGLY NEGLECTED.

THE FIELDS ARE CRYING ALOUD FOR TRAINED MEN, while thousands of young men are graduating from our law schools and there are jobs waiting for only a small percentage of them.

Housekeepers are complaining of the cost of living. It would seem to be wise for our educators in their national meetings to consider these problems. It might be wise to consider how many young lawyers will be needed in the next year to take the place of the older men who are dropping out. That could be determined very easily. Then if attention was called to the DEMAND OF THE INDUSTRIES FOR EDUCATED MEN a different direction might be given to many young men who seem to be "drawing their bows at a venture."

Poetry—Today

ALL'S WELL.

The sun is busy bringing the harvest time along;
The rattle of the "mower" is blended into song;
While swallows dip and circle above the new-mown hay
The incense of the meadows is blown along the way;
The clouds are high and fleecy, there's promise everywhere,
And who would not be hopeful, with all the world so fair?

The fretful politicians are going to and fro,
Arousing foolish passions, predicting future woe;
With selfish hopes they hurry from place to place to plead
Or utter foolish warnings the foolish only heed;
Their mouths are full of hatred, their hearts are full of spite,
But who would not be hopeful with all the world so bright.

The willows bend serenely above the placid stream,
Within the peaceful shadows the herds lie down to dream;
The "mower" blithely rattles, and many a fairy fleet
Is tossed upon the billows that cross the fields of wheat;
The bees, lured by the clover, seek hidden sweetness there,
And who would not be hopeful, with all the world so fair?

Urged by their own ambitions the politicians roar
Concerning ills that threaten and woes that are in store;
For selfish ends they vainly attempt to terrorize;
With cheap conceit they tell us they only are the wise;
But summer's joys await us, the clouds are high and white,
And who would not be hopeful with all the world so bright.

MODEL LANDLADY RETIRES AFTER FIFTY YEARS

Boarders Who Had Been With Her for From Fifteen to Forty-five Years, Give Her Farewell Banquet

The Famous Little Boarding House on South Green Street, Chicago.

CHICAGO.—Miss Margaret Murray, Chicago's model boarding house keeper, has retired from business after conducting a boarding house for 50 years. She is eighty years old, and has as much money as she needs to keep her for the rest of her days.

Fourteen men gathered at the little farewell banquet she gave recently at her boarding house, at 122 South Green street, a dingy thoroughfare in the heart of a manufacturing district. Most of them were gray-haired and old, some were wealthy and all were well-to-do. They had been her boarders for terms ranging from 15 to 45 years.

On that occasion, these boarders toasted their retiring landlady in coffee of her own brew, and called her "the paragon of boarding house keepers," "the most wonderful boarding house keeper in the world," and "the best boarding house keeper in all history."

There are no statistics on boarding house keepers to test the exact truth of these encomiums. But the facts in the case would seem to prove beyond cavil that, even if Mrs. Murray were not the best boarding house keeper in history, she at least is to be numbered among the chosen few.

Boarders Seldom Left Her. One may best judge the hold she had upon her boarders by the term of years each one has been with her. Here is the list of her boarders and the number of years each stayed:

Case Stewart, official of the Chicago & Northwestern railway, who became a boarder with Miss Murray before the Chicago fire, 45 years.

Inspector John Wheeler of the Chicago police department, who became a boarder when he was a patrolman, 34 years.

Neil McIntyre, architect, 29 years. Edward Cooney, policeman, 26 years. John Cassidy of the Central Trust company of Illinois, 22 years.

Daniel O'Connor, broker, 20 years. Timothy Daley, policeman, 18 years. Michael Daley, his son, seventeen years old, 15 years.

Edward Beal, buyer for a department store, 15 years. Dr. W. A. Quinn, 18 years.

Dr. William H. McCarthy, 16 years. Frank Hoy, 15 years. Samuel Wilson, 15 years.

Dr. Charles W. Inwall, 15 years. One perhaps might wonder why there was no boarder who had been with her throughout the full 50 years she kept a boarding house. Miss Murray explained this at the banquet.

"Michael O'Flaherty," she remarked, feelingly, "was my first boarder. I never knew a man who liked good coffee so well or could eat so much boiled ham as O'Flaherty. He sat at my table three times a day for 30 years. It was through no fault of his own that he quit me. He died, poor man."

The food served at Miss Murray's table seems to have woven a sort of hypnotic spell about her boarders. Some of them went away—or tried to—and in every instance they came fluttering back like fascinated birds. Some of her boarders used to say that, once a boarder with Miss Murray, always her boarder.

Officer Daley's Experience. There was Officer Timothy Daley, for instance. He began boarding with Miss Murray 18 years ago. He didn't want to leave her, but he fell in love. The big policeman knew that if he married he would have to leave the boarding house because his bride had declared flatly that she would not marry him unless he set up house-keeping. For a long time Officer Daley debated with himself, matrimony pulling on one side and Miss Murray's cooking tugging on the other.

In this battle his heart finally won. He married and left Miss Murray's boarding house to live in a cozy flat of his own. A little son, Michael Daley, blessed his union. But in a few years his wife died. Right after the funeral Officer Daley took his baby and went back to Miss Murray. He has been there ever since, and so has his boy.

Then there was Inspector Wheeler. Several years ago the inspector's brother built himself a new house, and thought it would be fine to have the inspector live there with him. The inspector liked the idea of living with his own kin, but he put off going as long as possible.

Finally he packed his belongings and stole away to his new home.

Went Back to Miss Murray.

But he was ill at ease in his new quarters. His brother and his brother's wife and his gay young nieces and nephews wondered to see him sit in moody silence and to hear him pace the floor of his room until far into the night. Then one morning his room in his brother's luxurious home was found empty. The inspector had packed his things and gone back to Miss Murray's in the night.

As a model boarding house keeper Miss Murray was no accident. She fitted herself by years of study, experiment and hard work. In her old age she is able to formulate certain rules which, she says, if lived up to rigidly will enable other boarding house keepers to achieve success. Here are some of the rules:

Give everybody plenty to eat.

Make the food plain and good.

Make the table and house homelike.

Don't run too much to style. A man would rather have a thick, juicy beef-steak than cut glass and fancy silver.

Put everything on the table at once and let the boarders help themselves.

Try to Please Them.

Cater to individual appetites. If one wants his steak well done and another wants it rare, cook their steaks separately.

Do your own marketing and make marketing a study.

Make good coffee. Bad coffee has been responsible for more boarding house failures than any other one thing.

Have specialties in cooking—dishes that you cook differently from anybody else and that your boarders cannot get anywhere except at your own table.

Do your own cooking.

Have your table linen and dishes specklessly clean.

Never serve any dish that is not as good as you know how to make it. If slightly burned or faulty in any respect, throw it away.

Have plenty of hot water in the house at all times.

Have a certain hour for meals, and serve them promptly on the hour.

Keep your rooms clean, and have plenty of bedclothes in cold weather.

Have all men as your boarders or all women. Never try to mix men and women. As boarders they won't mix. Men are preferable.

Mother your men. Darn their socks and sew their buttons on, keep their clothes in repair, and attend to their laundry.

Permit no liquor to be brought into the house.

Enforce good behavior, but allow your boarders plenty of liberty.

Let your boarders play poker if they want to, but stop the game at midnight, and don't let them play for high stakes.

Be an easy boss. Make your boarders your boys. Listen to their troubles. Give them advice when they ask it. Remember the boarding house is their home as well as yours.

Miss Murray has given her best thought to her boarding house. She has turned hundreds of persons away who asked to become members of her family. She boasts that she never had a dissatisfied boarder, and never lost a boarder except from death or matrimony.

Hers was no boarding house where the "boarders yell when they hear the dinner bell." She became known as the best old-fashioned cook in Chicago. Each of her meals was an event in the careers of her boarders, who came to the table always with smiles of anticipatory joy.

Miss Murray's boarding house is a modest two-story brick, with basement, wedged in between two big history buildings. It was once in the midst of a residence district, but its neighboring residences have been torn down, one by one, and replaced by factories and business houses until Miss Murray's house has been left stranded high and dry, the one lone residence of the neighborhood. But despite the dingy environment, Miss Murray's boarding house has preserved its prestige.

Brisk despite her four-score years, and with her motherly face framed by snow-white hair, Miss Murray sat the other day after her retirement by one of her front windows and looked out into the street as if she wished one of her "boys" would swing open the iron gates of her small front yard and climb the front steps to supper.

Feels Lonesome.

"It's a lonesome world," she said. "No one can know just how lonesome I feel. Many mothers lose their sons one by one, but mine have all gone away together."

"Such a fine lot they were! They were like own sons to me—always thinking of the things I should like how to save me work, how to make me happy."

"Many a time I have lectured them. Many a time I have given them sound advice. Not one of my boys ever went wrong. And to think I should have to turn them out into the streets!"

It isn't hard to explain, Miss Murray's influence over her boarders. She radiates happiness and contentment and a sharp Irish wit gleams through all her talk. The years have made her a philosopher.

"I was born in Ireland," she continued. "But I came to this country when I was a small child. My parents settled in Iowa and later came to Chicago. I learned to cook from my mother. I started my first boarding house fifty years ago at 122 North Union street, in the heart of a railroad district. Twenty-eight years ago I bought my present house."

"I have always done my own marketing and my own cooking. I think that is chiefly responsible for my success. Most people think men are hard to cook for. They are not. I have had no difficulty in pleasing my men."

"Cooney liked his steak well done; Inspector Wheeler liked his so rare that the blood follows the knife, Doctor Quinn liked it pounded before cooking, Beal liked it with just a little melted butter for gravy, Tim Daley liked brown gravy and plenty of it. It didn't take much longer to send the meat to the table the way they wanted it, and it didn't cost any more."

Didn't Want Any Women.

"Why didn't you take in women as boarders?" Miss Murray was asked.

"Men and women don't mix well in a boarding house," she replied. "If men don't care for the women they don't like them around, and if they do care for them there are sure to be unpleasant complications. I decided at the outset to have only men as boarders. They are not so fussy as women."

"I wouldn't have all women under any circumstances. Only women boarders would make any boarding house keeper's life a burden. They require too much waiting on, and are constantly fussing and raising a rumpus over trifles. I don't care to have them around."

"Did you always keep your boarders' clothes in order?"

"Oh, yes. What's darned a few socks or doing a little patching? It didn't amount to anything, and it sort of rested me after the cooking. The boys didn't want me to do it. In fact, they complained a good deal about it at first, but I made them behave themselves about that as I did about everything else."

"You acted as their guardian, then?"

"In a way, yes. I treated them just as though they were my children. They had all the liberty they wanted, but I saw they didn't abuse it—and they never tried to. Most of my boarders came to me when they were just starting out in life. They were away from home and there were a great many temptations around them. If I saw any of them discouraged or disheartened or getting a little too giddy I just waited until there was a chance and talked over things with them. After such a talk the young fellows would stop to think, and when they realized that I was worrying about them they would straighten up and do better just because of my interest in them. I never tried to run my boys. But I wanted them to understand distinctly that anything that went wrong with them was hard on me."

THE UNIT RULE.

The most progressive step thus far taken by the Democratic National Convention, was the smashing of the un-Democratic, un-Republican, un-American and iniquitous unit rule.

Adoption of this rule by the Ohio Democratic State convention, the effect of which was, if permitted by the National convention, to vote for Harmon in that body, nineteen Ohio delegates who had been elected by the party voters at a direct primary election as Wilson delegates. If permitted to obtain the expressed will of the party voters was nullified by a delegate body, selected long after the National delegates were elected.

The action of the National Convention in unyoking these nineteen Ohio delegates is the death-blow to the slight hopes which the backers of Governor Harmon held for his success.

The abrogation of the Unit rule is a tremendous step in the right direction and in that particular brings the Democratic party up with the Republican party, which long ago pushed it into the discard.

The action of the convention Wednesday promises much more of hope in the way of progressive platform and candidates and if the present trend continues the promises that the regular order of political routine, campaign and election, will be seriously disturbed, are not so bright.

The line-up of the delegates on the proposal to abolish the Unit rule presents an entire change of front from that of Tuesday when the vote on temporary chairman was taken.

THE SAFE AND SANE FOURTH.

Each year since 1903 The Journal of the American Medical Association has been waging a propaganda against the insensate maiming and death-dealing methods of celebrating our independence holiday.

It is gratifying to observe that more and more the constituted authorities have recognized that it is their duty to prevent the burning and the crippling of children and their death from lockjaw by prohibiting the sale of fireworks and like destructive agencies. Official appreciation of this fact is evidenced by the enactment and enforcement of appropriate ordinances. Many officials have in the most salutary way co-operated with non-governmental agencies interested in the safe and sane Fourth. Legislation against fireworks has been restrictive or prohibitive. The latter, of course, gives the best results.

In European countries occasions akin to our Independence Day are commemorated by means of fetes and other picturesque ceremonies, quite adequately, just as heartily and with as much patriotic fervor as among us. Continental peoples have a genius for festivities, national as well as all other kinds. For adult patriotism, oratory may suffice; but this is not satisfying to the youth of the land. In the legitimate interests of boyhood and girlhood, things equally brilliant and satisfactory must be substituted for the noise, the flare and the varicolored flame; and substitutes even more resplendent have been found in abundance. We have now methods by which the Fourth shall cease to be a day of terror, and shall become instead one of happiness, recreation and enlightenment. Noise is now being replaced by music—the music of bands, and of choruses drilled weeks before-hand by skilled leaders, and the singing of national airs and popular songs. There are tableaux, plays, floats devised by artists, representing historic and patriotic incidents and achievements; parades in which the Army and Navy, the police and fire departments, the militia, school children and industrial organizations take part; picnics and excursions and pink lemonade, peanuts, ice cream and watermelon sufficient to satisfy the most anacondan digestion; parks and other public places and buildings, both public and private, gorgeously illuminated by electricity; children's carnivals and dances; school celebrations; athletic sports, with distribution of copies of the Constitution, and so on.

And no maimings, no burnings, no killings, no lockjaw!

Educated Farmers More Needed Than Lawyers

By JAMES WILSON, Secretary of Agriculture

THE DEMAND OF THE UNITED STATES FOR LAWYERS AND PHYSICIANS IS MORE THAN MET BY THE PROFESSIONAL SCHOOLS, WHILE THE DEMAND FOR EDUCATED FARMERS IS STRIKINGLY NEGLECTED.

THE FIELDS ARE CRYING ALOUD FOR TRAINED MEN, while thousands of young men are graduating from our law schools and there are jobs waiting for only a small percentage of them.

Housekeepers are complaining of the cost of living. It would seem to be wise for our educators in their national meetings to consider these problems. It might be wise to consider how many young lawyers will be needed in the next year to take the place of the older men who are dropping out. That could be determined very easily. Then if attention was called to the DEMAND OF THE INDUSTRIES FOR EDUCATED MEN a different direction might be given to many young men who seem to be "drawing their bows at a venture."

Poetry—Today

ALL'S WELL.

The sun is busy bringing the harvest time along;
The rattle of the "mower" is blended into song;
While swallows dip and circle above the new-mown hay
The incense of the meadows is blown along the way;
The clouds are high and fleecy, there's promise everywhere,
And who would not be hopeful, with all the world so fair?

The fretful politicians are going to and fro,
Arousing foolish passions, predicting future woe;
With selfish hopes they hurry from place to place to plead
Or utter foolish warnings the foolish only heed;
Their mouths are full of hatred, their hearts are full of spite,
But who would not be hopeful with all the world so bright.

The willows bend serenely above the placid stream,
Within the peaceful shadows the herds lie down to dream;
The "mower" blithely rattles, and many a fairy fleet
Is tossed upon the billows that cross the fields of wheat;
The bees, lured by the clover, seek hidden sweetness there,
And who would not be hopeful, with all the world so fair?

Urged by their own ambitions the politicians roar
Concerning ills that threaten and woes that are in store;
For selfish ends they vainly attempt to terrorize;
With cheap conceit they tell us they only are the wise;
But summer's joys await us, the clouds are high and white,
And who would not be hopeful with all the world so bright.

MODEL LANDLADY RETIRES AFTER FIFTY YEARS

Boarders Who Had Been With Her for From Fifteen to Forty-five Years, Give Her Farewell Banquet

The Famous Little Boarding House
CHICAGO.—Miss Margaret Murray, Chicago's model boarding house keeper, has retired from business after conducting a boarding house for 50 years. She is eighty years old, and has as much money as she needs to keep her for the rest of her days.

Fourteen men gathered at the little farewell banquet she gave recently at her boarding house, at 122 South Green street, a dingy thoroughfare in the heart of a manufacturing district. Most of them were gray-haired and old, some were wealthy and all were well-to-do. They had been her boarders for terms ranging from 15 to 45 years.

On that occasion, these boarders toasted their retiring landlady in coffee of her own brew, and called her "the paragon of boarding house keepers," "the most wonderful boarding house keeper in the world," and "the best boarding house keeper in all history."

There are no statistics on boarding house keepers to test the exact truth of these encomiums. But the facts in the case would seem to prove beyond cavil that, even if Mrs. Murray were not the best boarding house keeper in history, she at least is to be numbered among the chosen few.

Boarders Seldom Left Her.
One may best judge the hold she had upon her boarders by the term of years each one has been with her. Here is the list of her boarders and the number of years each stayed:

Case Stewart, official of the Chicago & Northwestern railway, who became a boarder with Miss Murray before the Chicago fire, 45 years.
Inspector John Wheeler of the Chicago police department, who became a boarder when he was a patrolman, 34 years.
Neil McIntyre, architect, 29 years.
Edward Cooney, policeman, 26 years.
John Cassidy of the Central Trust company of Illinois, 22 years.
Daniel O'Connor, broker, 20 years.
Timothy Daley, policeman, 18 years.
Michael Daley, his son, seventeen years old, 15 years.
Edward Beal, buyer for a department store, 15 years.
Dr. W. A. Quinn, 18 years.
Dr. William H. McCarthy, 16 years.
Frank Hoy, 15 years.
Samuel Wilson, 15 years.
Dr. Charles W. Inwall, 15 years.

One perhaps might wonder why there was no boarder who had been with her throughout the full 50 years she kept a boarding house. Miss Murray explained this at the banquet.

"Michael O'Flaherty," she remarked, feelingly, "was my first boarder. I never knew a man who liked good coffee so well or could eat so much boiled ham as O'Flaherty. He sat at my table three times a day for 30 years. It was through no fault of his own that he quit me. He died, poor man."

The food served at Miss Murray's table seems to have woven a sort of hypnotic spell about her boarders. Some of them went away—or tried to—and in every instance they came fluttering back like fascinated birds. Some of her boarders used to say that, once a boarder with Miss Murray, always her boarder.

Officer Daley's Experience.
There was Officer Timothy Daley, for instance. He began boarding with Miss Murray 18 years ago. He didn't want to leave her, but he fell in love. The big policeman knew that if he married he would have to leave the house on South Green Street, Chicago.

boarding house because his bride had declared flatly that she would not marry him unless he set up house-keeping. For a long time Officer Daley debated with himself, matrimony pulling on one side and Miss Murray's cooking tugging on the other.

In this battle his heart finally won. He married and left Miss Murray's boarding house to live in a cozy flat of his own. A little son, Michael Daley, blessed his union. But in a few years his wife died. Right after the funeral Officer Daley took his baby and went back to Miss Murray. He has been there ever since, and so has his boy.

Then there was Inspector Wheeler. Several years ago the inspector's brother built himself a new house, and thought it would be fine to have the inspector live there with him. The inspector liked the idea of living with his own kin, but he put off going as long as possible.

Finally he packed his belongings and stole away to his new home.

Went Back to Miss Murray.

But he was ill at ease in his new quarters. His brother and his brother's wife and his gay young nieces and nephews wondered to see him sit in moody silence and to hear him pace the floor of his room until far into the night. Then one morning his room in his brother's luxurious home was found empty. The inspector had packed his things and gone back to Miss Murray's in the night.

As a model boarding house keeper Miss Murray was no accident. She fitted herself by years of study, experiment and hard work. In her old age she is able to formulate certain rules which, she says, if lived up to rigidly will enable other boarding house keepers to achieve success. Here are some of the rules:

Wonderful Progress Of Sunny Southland

Some figures have recently been compiled which show remarkable industrial and commercial development of the South during the past thirty-two years. The facts seem marvelous, considering the obstacles the South had to contend with for many years after the civil war. Extracts are given below.

In 1880 the whole United States had a population of 50,395,919; the population of the South today is 33,109,000, or nearly 17,300,000 less than the country's thirty-two years ago. But in spite of the great difference in population, the South is now surpassing the whole country of 1880 in many particulars.

The South has $3,397,000,000 of capital invested in manufacturing, a sum $600,000,000 greater than such capital in the country at the earlier date.

Its annual cut of 21,000,000,000 feet of lumber is more than half the cut of the country today, and 3,000,000,000 more feet than the cut of the country in 1880.

Its annual agricultural production of $3,000,000,000 is quite $600,000,000 more than the country's in 1880.

From its mines and quarries it is producing to the value of $370,000,000 a year, about $5,000,000 more than the country's production in 1880.

The 120,856,340 tons of coal mined in the South in 1910 were worth more than the output of all the gold and silver mines of the country in that year, while the crop of cotton with its seed, in the season ended August 31, 1911, was worth more than twice as much as the value of all the gold mined in the world and $437,353,000 more than all the gold and silver mined in the world in 1910.

The South is not only cutting

more than half the lumber of the country, but its textile mills are using more than half of the American-grown cotton used in American mills, and the Southern mills have 683,463 more spindles and 13,427 more looms than all the mills of the country had in 1880, and are using 392,689,652 more pounds of American-grown cotton than did all the mills of thirty-two years ago.

Railroad Development.

In 1880 there was in the United States one mile of railroad on an average for every 31.9 square miles of area. Now the 88,903 miles of railroad in the South average one mile for every 10.7 square miles of its area. Between 1880 and 1911, inclusive, the South—

Added $3,068,000,000 to its capital invested in manufacturing.

Increased the value of its farm lands and their improvements by $6,758,910,000.

Cut 352,721,000,000 feet of lumber.

Harvested 30,503,926,000 bushels of corn, wheat and oats.

Marketed 288,588,439 bales of cotton.

Made 140,000,000,000 tons of coke and 63,168,000 tons of pig iron.

Dug 121,300,000 tons of iron ore. Mined 1,523,000,000 tons of coal.

Produced 715,000,000 barrels of petroleum.

Constructed 64,037 miles of new railroad.

Bank Resources.

Increased the resources of its national banks by $1,731,100,168 and their individual deposits by $884,303,987, making the total last year $83,890,876 greater than the total of individual deposits in all the national banks of the country in 1880, and increased the individual deposits in other financial institutions by $1,066,605,458.

The increase of $18,323,000,000 in the estimated true value of property in the South in the thirty-two years is $2,163,000,000 greater in amount than the wealth of the whole country was in 1860 and nearly twice the amount of the wealth of the South in 1880.

In spite of the work already done, briefly outlined in these broad facts, much more is still to be wrought out.

The estimated original supply of coal in the South, for instance, was $32,438,000,000 tons, of which less than 2,500,000,000 tons have been mined.

Of the original 400,750,000 acres of forest area in the South, 258,000,000 remain. Properly handled 200,000,000 acres of such area may be maintained indefinitely as a source of increasing wealth, with a growing demand for lumber, naval stores and other forest products.

To Cultivate More Land.

So, too, adequate cultivation of the soil and full utilization of opportunities in that particular will double the acreage of improved farmland, giving the South 350,000,000 acres of it, instead of 175,000,000 as at present, while complementary to that task is the one of bringing under farming, by drainage, 53,000,000 acres of wet lands and by irrigation, several million acres more.

Six Southern states contain 75 per cent of the country's coal fit to be made coke, for the iron industry, and its vast resources of sulphur and salt of extent hardly to be estimated, of phosphate rock, lead and zinc and other minerals present opportunities for the development of the manufacture of fertilizers, explosives, dye-stuffs, various acids and other chemicals. Its bauxite is the material from which aluminum is derived, it is to take nitrogen from the air through hydro-electric process, it is deriving wood alcohol, spirits of turpentine, tar, tar oil, tannic acid and material for paper from its woods, and with the exhaustion of raw material of various kinds in other parts of the country, is increasing its importance as the storehouse for American industry.

SUGAR GROVE W. C. T. U.

The last meeting of Sugar Grove, W. C. T. U. was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. Robert Todhunter.

The subject was "Flower Missions" discussed by members, and a number of interesting papers read. The number of members present 11, visitors 8. Mrs. Bruce Pine was the leader.

On next Wednesday, July 3, the Union will have a social at Sugar Grove church in the afternoon, to which the Staunton and Good Hope unions are especially invited; also all who are interested in the work.

W. C. T. U. MEETING.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Sharp-Davies Friday at 2 p. m. A full attendance is desired.

Plan War On "Jay Walkers"

The necessity of having traffic rules, not merely for vehicles, but for pedestrians, is best appreciated by the man who, having a fixed destination in view and anxious to arrive there as quickly as possible, encounters a loitering, erratic moving sidewalk crowd.

"Jay walkers" is the appropriate name that Kansas City has invented for those persons who by their zig-zagging on the city sidewalks bring about confusion and congestion. The name is aptly applied. They may be accustomed to city ways, but they act like country bumpkins on their way to visit a big town—although that comparison does some injustice to the countryman.

Kansas City is moving by ordinance to suppress this nuisance by compelling the "jay walker" to keep in the recognized lanes of travel and forbidding him to do a number of things, such as crossing the street in the middle of the block.

Sooner or later, all cities big enough to have street crowds will have to take similar measures for the suppression of the "jay walker." The rights of the great majority demand that the sidewalks, and the streets, which we made for use and not abuse, be kept passable.—Times Star.

PUBLIC RECITAL AT CONSERVATORY.

The following students will give a recital in Conservatory hall Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock: Misses Beulah Elliott, Nellie Bridwell, Charlotte Baker, Helen Hamm, Gertrude Miller, Helen McKee, Mary Baughn, Lucy Graves, Bertha Graves, Ruth Baughn, Alma Eggleston, Winona DeWitt, Ethel Nieceley, Andre Bryant, Ethel Black, Lois Hankins, Edith Kinney, Rosalie Slagel, Doris Chaney, Mary Casey, Martha Nelson, Marjorie Klever, Chloe Anderson and Helen Paulin.

The public is cordially invited.

Married by Mayor

Wednesday evening at 4 o'clock Mayor Smith performed the marriage ceremony uniting Ray English and Mary Templin in the bonds of wedlock.

This was done upon the agreement of the couple, who stated that they would rather end the trouble in that manner than pay a heavy fine. When they decided upon this the license was secured and they were married at the mayor's office in the presence of Chief McCoy and another witness.

Birth Rate Takes Drop In France and Germany

A New York paper, speaking of the decrease in birth rate in France and Germany, says:
"Serious-minded Frenchmen—of whom there are a few—are crying shame to Parisians who can not be induced to take anything seriously—even the appalling drop in the French birth rate.
Here is a most grave state of things, say the thoughtful—35,000 less population in France than a year ago, and yet the fact does not arouse half as much interest as the latest Russian dancer or a quarrel in a cafe!
"France is being depopulated! France is wasting away! France is dying!"
And the gay boulevard folk shrug their shoulders and say, "well, what do you expect us to do about it?"
In fact the philosophers lament that no circle in Paris can talk about the birth rate for five minutes before everybody is cracking jokes or holding his sides.
Even a distinguished man of affairs, on hearing that the deficit for 1911 amounted to 35,000, merely remarked: "Curious! The fewer inhabitants there are in France the more crowded the busses get!"
The reproach of France falls also upon Germany, in a less but an increasing degree. For many years the birth rate in France has been declining. Fortunately, the death rate has also declined. In 1876 it was scarcely 37,000,000, in 1901 it was less than 39,000,000 and in 1906 it was about 39,250,000. Germany, on the other hand, has been increasing enormously in proportion. The area comprised in the present empire contained in 1816 nearly 25,000,000, in 1855 more than 36,000,000, in 1871 about 41,000,000, in 1900 more than 56,000,000, and in 1910 nearly 65,000,000.
It now begins to be realized, however, that this progress cannot be indefinitely maintained. In fact, it is asked if the climax has not been reached already and if hereafter there is not likely to be a marked decrease in the rate of growth. Vital statistics show that, while the number of marriages is increasing in about the same ratio as the population, the number of births is decreasing, both relatively and actually. Prussia, for example, in 1911 the number of births was 34,000 less than in 1910, in 1910 was 31,000 less than in 1909, and in 1909 was 21,000 less than in 1908. A similar movement is to be observed throughout the empire. Incidentally it may be remarked with regret that the number of illegitimate births is steadily increasing.
In the face of this declining birth rate the population has thus far continued to increase for two reasons. One is the absence of emigration in recent years; for while down to 1880 there was enormous emigration from Germany, there has been practically none at all since 1894. The other is the decrease of the death rate, which is due to improved sanitation and advancing medical and surgical knowledge. It is obvious, however, that the absence of emigration is now at best a stationary factor, there being no hope of any considerable emigration. As for the decreasing death rate, it may soon reach an irreducible minimum. But the decline of the birth rate is not subject to such stoppage; it may continue until it has gone as far as in France or farther. While in 1911 the excess of births over deaths in Prussia was 546,788, in 1911 it was only 490,333. These are the statistical indications which are now giving German publicists and social economists food for earnest thought and even cause for some real anxiety.

Few Privileges For Prisoners

The restrictions that have been imposed more sternly upon penitentiary prisoners this year than ever before, are severely evident in the plans for July 4.

No friends of prisoners will be allowed to visit them on Independence day, only those who can vouch for themselves as relatives of the imprisoned men can have this privilege. In line with the recent abolition of souvenir selling inside the walls and the passing of the prison restaurant, much to the benefit of the lunch basket trade, is the decision of the warden that the usual stand inside, where prisoners sold refreshments and tobacco on the holiday, will be abolished.

No smoking tobacco or cigars will be sold at the institution on that day nor will pipe smoking and cigaret cultivation be allowed, altho prisoners will be allowed to puff cigars and stogies. The visiting period in the morning will begin at 8 and last for three and a half hours. In the afternoon, the privilege will be extended over four hours' time.

MAN COUGHS AND BREAKS RIBS.

A few teaspoonfuls ends a late cough, while persistent use routs obstinate coughs, expels stubborn colds or heals weak, sore lungs. "I feel sure it's a Godsend to humanity," writes Mrs. Effie Morton, Columbia, Mo., "for I believe I would have consumed today, if I had not used this great remedy." Wonderful Progress Of Sunny Southland

Some figures have recently been compiled which show remarkable industrial and commercial development of the South during the past thirty-two years. The facts seem marvelous, considering the obstacles the South had to contend with for many years after the civil war. Extracts are given below.

In 1880 the whole United States had a population of 50,395,919; the population of the South today is 33,700,000, or nearly 17,300,000 less than the country's thirty-two years ago. But in spite of the great difference in population, the South is now surpassing the whole country of 1880 in many particulars.

The South has $3,397,000,000 of capital invested in manufacturing, a sum $600,000,000 greater than such capital in the country at the earlier date.

Its annual cut of 21,000,000,000 feet of lumber is more than half the cut of the country today, and 3,000,000,000 more feet than the cut of the country in 1880.

Its annual agricultural production of $3,000,000,000 is quite $600,000,000 more than the country's in 1880.

From its mines and quarries it is producing to the value of $370,000,000 a year, about $5,000,000 more than the country's production in 1880.

The 120,856,340 tons of coal mined in the South in 1910 were worth more than the output of all the gold and silver mines of the country in that year, while the crop of cotton with its seed, in the season ended August 31, 1911, was worth more than twice as much as the value of all the gold mined in the world and $437,353,000 more than all the gold and silver mined in the world in 1910.

The South is not only cutting

more than half the lumber of the country, but its textile mills are using more than half of the American-grown cotton used in American mills, and the Southern mills have 683,463 more spindles and 13,427 more looms than all the mills of the country had in 1880, and are using 392,689,652 more pounds of American-grown cotton than did all the mills of thirty-two years ago.

Railroad Development.

In 1880 there was in the United States one mile of railroad on an average for every 31.9 square miles of area. Now the 88,903 miles of railroad in the South average one mile for every 10.7 square miles of its area. Between 1880 and 1911, inclusive, the South—

Added $3,068,000,000 to its capital invested in manufacturing.

Increased the value of its farm lands and their improvements by $6,758,910,000.

Cut 352,721,000,000 feet of lumber.

Harvested 30,503,926,000 bushels of corn, wheat and oats.

Marketed 288,588,439 bales of cotton.

Made 140,000,000,000 tons of coke and 63,168,000 tons of pig iron.

Dug 121,300,000 tons of iron ore.

Mined 1,523,000,000 tons of coal.

Produced 715,000,000 barrels of petroleum.

Constructed 64,037 miles of new railroad.

Bank Resources.

Increased the resources of its national banks by $1,731,100,168 and their individual deposits by $884,303,987, making the total last year $83,890,873 greater than the total of individual deposits in all the national banks of the country in 1880, and increased the individual deposits in other financial institutions by $1,066,605,458.

The increase of $18,323,000,000 in the estimated true value of property in the South in the thirty-two years is $2,163,000,000 greater in amount than the wealth of the whole country was in 1860 and nearly twice the amount of the wealth of the South in 1880.

In spite of the work already done, briefly outlined in these broad facts, much more is still to be wrought out.

The estimated original supply of coal in the South, for instance, was $32,438,000,000 tons, of which less than 2,500,000,000 tons have been mined.

Of the original 400,750,000 acres of forest area in the South, 258,000,000 remain. Properly handled 200,000,000 acres of such area may be maintained indefinitely as a source of increasing wealth, with a growing demand for lumber, naval stores and other forest products.

To Cultivate More Land.

So, too, adequate cultivation of the soil and full utilization of opportunities in that particular will double the acreage of improved farm land, giving the South 350,000,000 acres of it, instead of 175,000,000 as at present, while complementary to that task is the one of bringing under farming, by drainage, 53,000,000 acres of wet lands and by irrigation, several million acres more.

Six Southern states contain 75 per cent of the country's coal fit to be made coke, for the iron industry, and its vast resources of sulphur and salt of extent hardly to be estimated, of phosphate rock, lead and zinc and other minerals present opportunities for the development of the manufacture of fertilizers, explosives, dye-stuffs, various acids and other chemicals. Its bauxite is the material from which aluminum is derived, it is to take nitrogen from the air through hydro-electric process, it is deriving wood alcohol, spirits of turpentine, tar, tar oil, tannic acid and material for paper from its woods, and with the exhaustion of raw material of various kinds in other parts of the country, is increasing its importance as the storehouse for American industry.

PYTHIAN KNIGHTS ROYALLY ENTERTAIN

Castle Hall of Confidence Lodge
Scene of Brilliant Social Affair
Last Night.

FIVE HUNDRED ENJOY EVENING

Fine Drill Work of the Guards a
Feature Which Brings Forth
Outbursts of Applause--Many Fancy Robes Add Attraction
to Splendid Drill.

Not since the notable night of its opening has the Pythian Castle presented such a scene of brilliancy and beauty as on Wednesday evening, when it was thrown open to the Knights and their families, with a number of invited guests, for a reception, and the display of the elaborate new uniforms which are among the handsomest possessed by any K. P. lodge in the state.

Five hundred people passed within the portaled entrance and found the castle blazing with light and radiant with lavish decorations of flowers and greenery.

By eight o'clock the guests were assembled in the splendid lodge room for the ceremonies of the evening.

Dr. Hughey, as chairman, presided with dignity and made a very happy little introductory speech.

Judge A. C. Patton and Knight H. D. Chaffin followed with loyal tributes to the order, its sterling principles and ambitious zeal.

Johnson's orchestra of 11 pieces, furnished delightful music and at intervals throughout the entire evening added greatly to the pleasure of the occasion.

After the introductory ceremonies were over the Blue Guards, under the captainship of Knight Henry Smith and the Yellow Guards, under the captainship of Knight O. E. Hardway, brought in the officers in full uniform and seated them in their regular positions. Following came the king trumpeted by the herald Knight Odd Ott, and preceded by Knight George Bryan as standard-bearer. Knight Luther Brakefield in his kingly robes costing hundreds of dollars, made a most imposing appearance.

The pageant formed by the guards and officers, all in magnificent robes and uniforms of the days of Imperial Rome, aglitter with gold and silver, and resplendent in the rich colors of the order, crimson, blue and yellow, was strikingly effective and called forth great clapping and enthusiastic praise. The new costumes are as handsome as those of the famed Iola lodge of Dayton and far surpass those ordinarily found in lodges. It was the first time that the outside public had had the opportunity to see them and it was not strange that visitors were completely carried away by the spectacle.

After the officers were seated the Blue Guards, eight men in full uniform of blue, mounted in silver, and the Yellow Guards, eight men, in yellow, mounted in silver, the costumes of those of the old Roman guards, gave in turn magnificently executed drills, concluding with a drill by both squads, perfect in execution and dazzling in effect.

At the close of the drills the officers retired, and as they did so formed with the guard a triangle in the center of the hall. The two captains, Capt. Smith and Capt. Hardway, were then presented with two beautiful bouquets by Knights Jess Blackmer and H. D. Chaffin.

The banquet hall was thrown open and the guests were served with punch and fancy cakes from a bower of palms, plants and flags.

Easton and Terry served.

From ten to twelve dancing was enjoyed in the ball room, the orchestra playing popular dance music and the evening closed in a whirl of pleasure.

The committee in charge of the affair included Chairman, Arthur Finley, Herman Price, Elmer Tracey, Fred Schmid, Geo. Bryan.

The Reception committee was composed of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Gregg, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Blackmer, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmid, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Finley, Miss Caroline Kingsbury and Miss Bess Kerr.

Committee Visits Neighboring Towns

A committee from the local Board of Education, consisting of Messrs. Craig, Howat, Duffee and Willis visited the new school buildings at Sabina and Wilmington Wednesday, and carefully inspected the buildings at each place.

The committee was well pleased with the buildings, and it was their object to become familiar with any new features that might be in the buildings. The buildings in both towns are handsome structures, and a few days ago the citizens of Wilmington voted an additional $10,000 bond issue to complete the High school building at that point.

Carrier Pigeon Rescued From Dog

Mr. Daniels, steam fitter, with Mr. David Schneider, found a carrier pigeon on Market street this morning.

The pigeon was being chased by a dog but was rescued before it was injured. Around each leg was a brass band inscribed with a keystone, having the letter J in the center, and also A. B. 27232. On the other hand was a triangle and the numerals 23608.

The Keystone emblem would indicate that the bird had been sent out from the Keystone state, Pennsylvania.

It seemed very tired, as if it had traveled a long way.

Second Matinee Friday Afternoon

Tomorrow afternoon the second matinee of the series will be pulled off at the local race track, and indications are that the crowd will be larger than the event two weeks ago, when some 3,000 people gathered to witness the sport and enjoyed the races to the limit.

Tomorrow's program contains even better attractions than before and all who love racing will find plenty of amusement. The Washington orchestra will again furnish music during the afternoon.

Latest Papers And Magazines

The lobby of the Y. M. C. A. is proving as popular with the public as the remainder of the building is with the membership.

All of the latest papers are now on file for public perusal, and also all of the latest magazines. Within a short time some 36 different magazines may be found on file in the lobby.

The doors are open from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. each week day and 2 to 5 on Sundays.

Joint Worm Fly Is Busy Again

The joint worm fly, which has infested Fayette county wheat the past few years, is busy again this year, but not in such large numbers as heretofore, probably because of the severe winter which is said to have killed many of the pests.

In the Madison Mills neighborhood some of the farmers report the fly very active, but as a rule the fields are unusually free from the fly and other pests this year.

Tom Wackman Case Up for Hearing Today

Tommy Wackman, charged with assisting in the robbery of Acton Brothers' store in Milledgeville some three weeks ago, faced Mayor Smith Thursday morning, represented by W. B. Rogers, while Lee Rankin represented the prosecuting witness, Ulric Acton.

Little evidence of a damaging nature was introduced in the case during the forenoon session. Ollie Downard, held in the county jail awaiting the action of the grand jury on a charge of assisting in robbing the store, was again placed on the stand, telling his same old story of going to the apple tree near the Buck Green house early in the morning and there receiving the stolen shoes from Wackman.

A lady who testified to seeing

Downard and two other men pass on the day preceding the robbery, could not identify Wackman as one of the trio, but thought "he looked a little like the fellow."

Efforts have been made to secure a confession from Downard, but so far he has resisted all efforts, and sticks to the same old story of being at home on the night of the robbery—a story that contradicts itself in various ways.

Thursday afternoon Attorney Rogers submitted a motion to dismiss the case, and this was overruled by Mayor Smith. Wackman through his attorney then waived further examination and was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $200 bond, which, after some delay, was furnished and Wackman went his way.

SCRATCHED A LIFETIME.

Terrible Eczema Afflicts Many for Years.

Try this Remedy at Our Risk.

People whom you would not suspect of having any skin trouble, often suffer torture from eczema on the arms or thighs, and scratch all their lives thinking their case incurable.

To all such we want to say that our new remedy Saxon Salve, is worthy of the greatest confidence in all eruptions and crusted or scaly disorders of the skin. It soothes the skin and quiets the itching from the very first application.

It also exerts such a powerful healing influence because it is readily absorbed, and permeates every fiber of the diseased tissue, that it clears away the eruption and restores the skin to its former healthy condition. You see improvement in a few days.

There is no chance for disappointment for if Saxon Salve does not satisfy you, you get your money back. Blackmer & Tanquary, Druggists, Washington C. H., Ohio.

Mallow's Bonnie Takes Second

At the Coshooton races yesterday, Bonnie Dotte, the young trotter, in the string of Wert Mallow, took 4th money in the 2:22 trot. It was the mare's first time out and the showing of five times second and one time third, was a very creditable one. The purse was $300.

The race summary:
2:22 Trot, Purse $300.—Duchess, by Allertine (Lee), 1 second, 2 thirds, 3 firsts; Oliver H. b. g., by Bert Oliver (Bouga), 1 fourth, 2 firsts, 1 seventh, 1 fourth and 1 third; Princewood, b. g., by Woodmist (Bigely) 1 first, 3 fourths, 1 third and 1 fourth; Bonnie Dotte, b. m., by Bernadotte (Mallow) 1 third, 5 seconds.

PYTHIAN KNIGHTS ROYALLY ENTERTAIN

Castle Hall of Confidence Lodge
Scene of Brilliant Social Affair
Last Night.

FIVE HUNDRED ENJOY EVENING

Fine Drill Work of the Guards a
Feature Which Brings Forth
Outbursts of Applause—Many
Fancy Robes Add Attraction
to Splendid Drill.

Not since the notable night of its opening has the Pythian Castle presented such a scene of brilliancy and beauty as on Wednesday evening, when it was thrown open to the Knights and their families, with a number of invited guests, for a reception, and the display of the elaborate new uniforms which are among the handsomest possessed by any K. P. lodge in the state.

Five hundred people passed within the portaled entrance and found the castle blazing with light and radiant with lavish decorations of flowers and greenery.

By eight o'clock the guests were assembled in the splendid lodge room for the ceremonies of the evening.

Dr. Hughey, as chairman, presided with dignity and made a very happy little introductory speech.

Judge A. C. Patton and Knight H. D. Chaffin followed with loyal tributes to the order, its sterling principles and ambitious zeal.

Johnson's orchestra of 11 pieces, furnished delightful music and at intervals throughout the entire evening added greatly to the pleasure of the occasion.

After the introductory ceremonies were over the Blue Guards, under the captainship of Knight Henry Smith and the Yellow Guards, under the captainship of Knight O. E. Hardway, brought in the officers in full uniform and seated them in their regular positions. Following came the king trumpeted by the herald Knight Odd Ott, and preceded by Knight George Bryan as standard-bearer. Knight Luther Brakefield in his kingly robes costing hundreds of dollars, made a most imposing appearance.

The pageant formed by the guards and officers, all in magnificent robes and uniforms of the days of Imperial Rome, aglitter with gold and silver, and resplendent in the rich colors of the order, crimson, blue and yellow, was strikingly effective and called forth great clapping and enthusiastic praise. The new costumes are as handsome as those of the famed Iola lodge of Dayton and far surpass those ordinarily found in lodges. It was the first time that the outside public had had the opportunity to see them and it was not strange that visitors were completely carried away by the spectacle.

After the officers were seated the Blue Guards, eight men in full uniform of blue, mounted in silver, and the Yellow Guards, eight men, in yellow, mounted in silver, the costumes of those of the old Roman guards, gave in turn magnificently executed drills, concluding with a drill by both squads, perfect in execution and dazzling in effect.

At the close of the drills the officers retired, and as they did so formed with the guard a triangle in the center of the hall. The two captains, Capt. Smith and Capt. Hardway, were then presented with two beautiful bouquets by Knights Jess Blackmer and H. D. Chaffin.

The banquet hall was thrown open and the guests were served with punch and fancy cakes from a bower of palms, plants and flags.

Easton and Terry served.

From ten to twelve dancing was enjoyed in the ball room, the orchestra playing popular dance music and the evening closed in a whirl of pleasure.

The committee in charge of the affair included Chairman, Arthur Finley, Herman Price, Elmer Tracey, Fred Schmid, Geo. Bryan.

The Reception committee was composed of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Gregg, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Blackmer, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmid, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Finley, Miss Caroline Kingsbury and Miss Bess Kerr.

Committee Visits Neighboring Towns

A committee from the local Board of Education, consisting of Messrs. Craig, Howat, Duffee and Willis visited the new school buildings at Sabina and Wilmington Wednesday, and carefully inspected the buildings at each place.

The committee was well pleased with the buildings, and it was their object to become familiar with any new features that might be in the buildings. The buildings in both towns are handsome structures, and a few days ago the citizens of Wilmington voted an additional $10,000 bond issue to complete the High school building at that point.

Carrier Pigeon Rescued From Dog

Mr. Daniels, steam fitter, with Mr. David Schneider, found a carrier pigeon on Market street this morning.

The pigeon was being chased by a dog but was rescued before it was injured. Around each leg was a brass band inscribed with a keystone, having the letter J in the center, and also A. B. 27232. On the other band was a triangle and the numerals 23608.

The Keystone emblem would indicate that the bird had been sent out from the Keystone state, Pennsylvania.

It seemed very tired, as if it had traveled a long way.

Second Matinee Friday Afternoon

Tomorrow afternoon the second matinee of the series will be pulled off at the local race track, and indications are that the crowd will be larger than the event two weeks ago, when some 3,000 people gathered to witness the sport and enjoyed the races to the limit.

Tomorrow's program contains even better attractions than before and all who love racing will find plenty of amusement. The Washington orchestra will again furnish music during the afternoon.

Latest Papers And Magazines

The lobby of the Y. M. C. A. is proving as popular with the public as the remainder of the building is with the membership.

All of the latest papers are now on file for public perusal, and also all of the latest magazines. Within a short time some 36 different magazines may be found on file in the lobby.

The doors are open from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. each week day and 2 to 5 on Sundays.

Joint Worm Fly Is Busy Again

The joint worm fly, which has infested Fayette county wheat the past few years, is busy again this year, but not in such large numbers as heretofore, probably because of the severe winter which is said to have killed many of the pests.

In the Madison Mills neighborhood some of the farmers report the fly very active, but as a rule the fields are unusually free from the fly and other pests this year.

FRANK L. STUTSON

I. O. O. F.
TEMPLE

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

A simple home wedding, but exceedingly pretty in its appointments, took place Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Allen, their daughter, Miss Mabel, plighting her troth to Dr. J. Arthur McCoy, son of Mr. Allison McCoy on the Stanton pike.

Rev. Long, of Frankfort, performed the ceremony with only the immediate families in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Allen played the wedding march as a duet.

Pink roses and catalpa blossoms were in graceful arrangement throughout the rooms and a collation was served after the ceremony.

The bride was charming in a handsome gown of white silk poplin, with trimming of Irish crochet. Her going away gown was a tailored suit of dark blue, with hat to match.

Dr. and Mrs. McCoy left at once for their new home in Waynesville. Their house is furnished and in readiness.

Dr. McCoy graduated in veterinary surgery from the Ohio State university in 1911 and is already successfully launched in the practice of his profession at Waynesville. Both bride and bridegroom carry with them to their new home the best wishes of a large family connection and many friends in this town and county.

The home of Mrs. Austin F. Hopkins presented a scene of picturesque summer beauty yesterday afternoon, when 40 women assembled on the large verandah and flower scented lawn for a Guild Kensington.

Indoors spacious rooms were hospitably enfeated and decorated with white lilies, but the women preferred to take their fancy work to the verandahs.

Fruit punch and light refreshments were served, and the guests were indebted to their cordial hostess for one of the most delightful afternoons of the season.

The girls of the Theta Sigma Pi Sorority enjoyed a merry picnic supper and a regular Fourth of July celebration on the lawn of Miss Ruth Perrill's home yesterday. Miss Perrill was assisted by her mother, Mrs. James Perrill, and gave to the jolly crowd carte blanche for a good time. Miss Estelle Jamison, of Pontiac, Ill., was an out-of-town guest.

FISHER—NOBLE.

Miss Alma Noble, daughter of Mrs. Alice Noble, of New Holland, and Mr. Raymond Fisher, of Chillicothe, were married at the Christian parsonage Tuesday evening by Rev. Hostetter.

The bride, who has many friends in this city, was one of this year's graduates from the New Holland High school and was accompanied by two of her classmates, Miss Millie Deland and Miss Marie Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher will make their future home in Chillicothe.

Mr. Willard S. Willis is a business visitor in Columbus.

Mr. John Near is the guest of friends in Frankfort.

Mrs. Harry Phillips is visiting friends in Chillicothe.

Mr. C. C. Pavey was down from Columbus on business today.

Mr. Paul Weber, of Cincinnati, is spending a few days in this city.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Gordon, June 23, a son, Charles Edward.

Congressman Claypool, of Chillicothe, was a business visitor here today.

Miss Juanita Buck, of York, Pa., is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Ray F. Zaner.

Mrs. Minnie Brown has returned from a three weeks' visit in Youngstown and Pittsburg, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Creamer, Mrs. Alice Moorman, Mrs. Ella Courts, Mr. Ed Hutson made a trip to Richmond, Ind., the past two days, motoring back in Mr. Creamer's new Pilot touring car.

Mrs. William Ambrose and Miss Ruth Whitsel, of Columbus, are the guests of Mrs. Floyd Elliott.

Miss Constance Ballard is home from St. Joseph's Academy, Cincinnati, for the summer vacation.

Mrs. Sarah Eldridge arrives from Brooklyn, N. Y., in the morning to visit her sister, Mrs. Mary Cleveland.

Mrs. George Inskeep is entertaining Mrs. Clara Wicham, of Georgetown, and Miss Clara Tyler, of Russellville, O.

Mrs. Will Ostot and daughter, Miss Dorothy, arrive today from Springfield, to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Tuttle.

Mr. B. F. Davis and daughter, Miss Kathleen, spent Wednesday in Columbus, Miss Kathleen remaining to visit her aunt, Mrs. C. C. Pavey.

Mrs. Earl Grant has returned to her home in Grove City after a visit with her mother, Mrs. Sarah E. Patton, and sister, Mrs. George Haynes.

Mr. Robert Wilson is completing a very attractive modern home on N. North street and expects to have it ready for occupancy within another week.

Miss Margaret Burns and niece, Katharine Burns, who have been the guests of Mrs. Anna Hicks, at the Arlington hotel this week, left today for a visit in Cincinnati, before returning to their home in Chicago.

FRANK L. STUTSON

I. O. O. F.
TEMPLE

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

A simple home wedding, but exceedingly pretty in its appointments, took place Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Allen, their daughter, Miss Mabel, plighting her troth to Dr. J. Arthur McCoy, son of Mr. Allison McCoy on the Stanton pike.

Rev. Long, of Frankfort, performed the ceremony with only the immediate families in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Allen played the wedding march as a duet.

Pink roses and catalpa blossoms were in graceful arrangement throughout the rooms and a collation was served after the ceremony.

The bride was charming in a handsome gown of white silk poplin, with trimming of Irish crochet. Her going away gown was a tailored suit of dark blue, with hat to match.

Dr. and Mrs. McCoy left at once for their new home in Waynesville. Their house is furnished and in readiness.

Dr. McCoy graduated in veterinary surgery from the Ohio State university in 1911 and is already successfully launched in the practice of his profession at Waynesville. Both bride and bridegroom carry with them to their new home the best wishes of a large family connection and many friends in this town and county.

The home of Mrs. Austin F. Hopkin presented a scene of picturesque summer beauty yesterday afternoon, when 40 women assembled on the large verandah and flower scented lawn for a Guild Kensington.

Indoors spacious rooms were hospitably enfeated and decorated with white lilies, but the women preferred to take their fancy work to the verandahs.

Fruit punch and light refreshments were served, and the guests were indebted to their cordial hostess for one of the most delightful afternoons of the season.

The girls of the Theta Sigma Pi Sorority enjoyed a merry picnic supper and a regular Fourth of July celebration on the lawn of Miss Ruth Perrill's home yesterday. Miss Perrill was assisted by her mother, Mrs. James Perrill, and gave to the jolly crowd carte blanche for a good time.

Miss Estelle Jamison, of Pontiac, Ill., was an out-of-town guest.

FISHER—NOBLE.

Miss Alma Noble, daughter of Mrs. Alice Noble, of New Holland, and Mr. Raymond Fisher, of Chillicothe, were married at the Christian parsonage Tuesday evening by Rev. Hostetter.

The bride, who has many friends in this city, was one of this year's graduates from the New Holland High school and was accompanied by two of her classmates, Miss Millie Deland and Miss Marie Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher will make their future home in Chillicothe.

Mr. Willard S. Willis is a business visitor in Columbus.

Mr. John Near is the guest of friends in Frankfort.

Mrs. Harry Phillips is visiting friends in Chillicothe.

Mr. C. C. Pavey was down from Columbus on business today.

Mr. Paul Weber, of Cincinnati, is spending a few days in this city.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Gordon, June 23, a son, Charles Edward.

Congressman Claypool, of Chillicothe, was a business visitor here today.

Miss Juanita Buck, of York, Pa., is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Ray E. Zaner.

Mrs. Minnie Brown has returned from a three weeks' visit in Youngstown and Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Creamer, Mrs. Alice Moorman, Mrs. Ella Courts, Mr. Ed Hutson made a trip to Richmond, Ind., the past two days, motor-ing back in Mr. Creamer's new Pilot touring car.

Mrs. William Ambrose and Miss Ruth Whitsel, of Columbus, are the guests of Mrs. Floyd Elliott.

Miss Constance Ballard is home from St. Joseph's Academy, Cincinnati, for the summer vacation.

Mrs. Sarah Eldridge arrives from Brooklyn, N. Y., in the morning to visit her sister, Mrs. Mary Cleveland.

Mrs. George Inskeep is entertaining Mrs. Clara Wicham, of Georgetown, and Miss Clara Tyler, of Russellville, O.

Mrs. Will Otstot and daughter, Miss Dorothy, arrive today from Springfield, to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Tuttle.

Mr. B. F. Davis and daughter, Miss Kathleen, spent Wednesday in Columbus, Miss Kathleen remaining to visit her aunt, Mrs. C. C. Pavey.

Mrs. Earl Grant has returned to her home in Grove City after a visit with her mother, Mrs. Sarah E. Patton, and sister, Mrs. George Haynes.

Mr. Robert Wilson is completing a very attractive modern home on N. North street and expects to have it ready for occupancy within another week.

Miss Margaret Burns and niece, Katharine Burns, who have been the guests of Mrs. Anna Hicks, at the Arlington hotel this week, left today for a visit in Cincinnati, before returning to their home in Chicago.

Mrs. L. R. Craig Dies After Long Illness

Judge T. N. Craig received the sad news of the death of Mrs. Mae Craig, wife of his son, Dr. L. R. Craig, late Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Craig passed away in a Cleveland hospital at 6:15 Wednesday evening, and the remains will arrive in this city Friday and interment be made in the Washington cemetery.

Mrs. Craig was a niece of Mrs. J. M. Willis of this city and was a daughter of Dr. B. T. Kellar, former physician of this city and who also practiced a number of years in Bloomingburg, has been ill since Christmas, having been taken ill at her home in Mitchell, Neb., and a few weeks ago she visited Judge T. N. Craig and other friends in this city, during which time she received treatment from physicians here and in Columbus, but her condition did not improve.

Going from here to Hudson, near Cleveland, where her father lives, she became so ill that three weeks ago she was taken to the hospital in Cleveland. Her husband, who had given up most of his practice in order to be with his wife, was assured by Cleveland physicians that Mrs. Craig's condition was not considered serious for the time being, and he returned to his practice in Mitchell, Nebraska. About a week ago a change for the worse took place and he was summoned to the bedside of his wife, remaining there until the end.

Mrs. Craig is well known in this city and county, and has a wide circle of friends who will learn of her death with the utmost sorrow.

TEDDY WILL BE A REAL LEADER OF NEW PARTY

Colonel Roosevelt Takes Pains to Make This Clear.

TO FIGHT TO THE BITTER END

Gives Out a Statement For the Purpose of Heading Off Any Movement Towards Another Candidate For Progressives—Denies Knowledge of Any Overtures Being Made at Baltimore—Comptroller Prendergast at Sagamore Hill.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 27.—The real leader of the third party movement is Theodore Roosevelt. The colonel makes this clear and says he will stay in the fight to the end.

Comptroller Prendergast, after an extended conference with the former president, issued a terse statement in which he heads off any move either at Baltimore or in the conference preliminary to the colonel's convention toward another candidate for the progressives. "The object for which this fraud was perpetrated," declares Mr. Prendergast, among other things in his statement, "was the defeat of Mr. Roosevelt, not the nomination of anybody else. The conspiracy will be successful if any other man is elected to the presidency. The object of every honest man should, therefore, be to elect him."

"I have had hundreds of letters and telegrams," said the colonel, "from people all over the country, urging me to continue to lead the fight."

In commenting upon a passage in Mr. Prendergast's statement which says "that should either Mr. Taft or a Democrat be elected, the success of the conspirators will be complete," the colonel recounted with great warmth the personal nature of the opposition to him. He called upon Mr. Prendergast to attest this.

"I was approached," explained Mr. Prendergast, "and asked to go to Mr. Roosevelt as a personal friend and tell him that the contested delegates in California, Washington and Texas will be allowed if he would throw his influence to Governor Hadley or to some other candidate."

"But you know what I said," the colonel broke in here, recalling his rejection of these overtures. "With them it was anything to beat me. They will go down to Baltimore to get their candidates. Taft or Parker, it is all one to them. The men behind that conservative bunch would prefer Bryan or Wilson, or anybody else, to me," he continued with vigor, "and I know them and they know me."

Colonel Roosevelt declared that he knew nothing about the conferences which several of his most pronounced adherents have had in Baltimore with Bryan and Wilson.

Blind Senator Looses Healthy Roll Of Money

Senator Gore's Experience at the Baltimore Convention.

Baltimore, June 27.—United States Senator Gore of Oklahoma was without money for a short time. When the senator and his wife returned from the convention to their apartments in a hotel here, they found that thieves had taken $125. Senator Gore had troubles in getting a check cashed, but when friends learned of his financial difficulties he soon got money. For a time it looked as if the blind senator and his wife would have to rustle for their luncheon.

CAN'T SEE JOKE.

Tarrytown, N. Y., June 27.—An Italian employed in the railroad yards is convinced that an elephant has no sense of humor. The Italian essayed to entertain a number of friends by feeding an elephant in a freight car a pint or so of black pepper. The elephant took the pepper in good faith, and the sneeze that followed nearly knocked him down. Enraged, Jumbo grabbed the Italian with his trunk and threw him 50 feet away into a car of coal. The Italian was badly injured, but was assisted home by his friends.

BURNS, CUTS, BRUISES.

San Cura Ointment Stops Pain at Once, Draws Out all Poisons, and Heals Promptly.

In all the world there is no ointment, no liniment, no remedy for burns, cuts and bruises that can compare with the antiseptic ointment called San Cura.

Every person ought to have a jar on hand; it is the first and best aid to the injured in case of accident, and is the ideal remedy for so many other distressing and painful ailments besides.

For example: It is guaranteed by Brown's Drug Store to cure itching, bleeding and protruding piles, eczema, tetter, ulcers, salt rheum, boils, carbuncles and pimples, or money back.

In case of old running sores, no matter how long standing, a few poultices of San Cura Ointment will draw out every particle of poison, and leave it in such a thoroughly antiseptic condition that the sore will heal, never to break open again.

We advise every reader to get a jar of San Cura Ointment today and keep it ready for an accident or emergency that may happen. 25 cents and 50 cents at Brown's Drug Store on the money-back plan.

SOAP FOR THE SCALP.

San Cura Soap is delightful for shampooing, because it is full of antiseptic properties that banish the germs of dandruff and other impurities from the scalp. It cures pimples and blackheads, too. 25 cents a cake at Brown's Drug Store.

Mail orders for San Cura Ointment and Soap filled by Thompson Medical Co., Titusville, Pa.

ENDS HUNT FOR RICH GIL.

Often the hunt for a rich wife ends when the man meets a woman that uses Electric Bitters. Her strong nerves tell in a bright brain and even temper. Her peach-bloom complexion and ruby lips result from her pure blood; her bright eyes from restful sleep; her elastic step from firm, free muscles, all telling of the health and strength Electric Bitters give a woman, and the freedom from indigestion, backache, headache, fainting and dizzy spells they promote. Everywhere they are woman's favorite remedy. If weak or ailing try them. 50c at Blackmer & Tanquary.

Violent Electrical Storm During Night

One of the most violent electrical storms of the season swept over the city and county from ten until nearly midnight Wednesday night, and hail is reported in the eastern part of the county.

The continual flash of lightning and crashing of thunder caused some apprehension among those who fear tornadoes. So far as known the principal damage done by the lightning was to telephones and trees, although many of the bolts fell close to various residences in the country and near the outskirts of the city.

The storm came from the east, and for some time the storm center hung over the country east of this city. A drenching rain did a great deal of good to growing crops.

WHEN WOMAN'S WORK IS DONE.

Sombody said, "Woman's work is never done." Anything that emancipates her from this form of slavery is hailed with joy. This is the reason for the constantly increasing popularity of "Easy Task Soap," the hard, white, pure laundry soap, that does half the work of wash-day by itself. Add to this the fact that it positively does not rot or streak the clothes, that it launders laces, linens, flannels, silks, bedding, table cloths and all fabrics perfectly, and you will understand why it should be in your house right away.

Party Platform Is Being Built

Representatives of Various Interests Given a Hearing.

GOMPERS BEFORE COMMITTEE

Assured That a Plank Will Be Incorporated Reaffirming the Denver Declaration and Possibly For Employers' Liability and Workmen's Compensation Legislation—Representative of the Manufacturers' Association Questioned by Bryan.

Baltimore, June 27.—A subcommittee of 12 distinguished Democratic statesmen are at work on the first draft of the party platform. The full committee listened to arguments in support of various planks submitted to the committee for its consideration. Before the hearings began, Senator Kern of Indiana, chairman of the committee on resolutions, announced the names of the subcommittee of 11 who, together with himself, are drafting the platform. This subcommittee is composed of the following, in addition to Mr. Kern, who will be ex-officio chairman:

Senator Charles A. Culberson of Texas, W. J. Bryan of Nebraska, Senator Isador Rayner, Senator James A. O'Gorman of New York, Senator Thomas S. Martin of Virginia, Senator Pomerene of Ohio, George W. Fithian of Illinois, A. M. Dockery of Missouri, S. W. Belford of Nevada, Thomas J. Walsh of Montana and Congressman R. F. Broussard of Louisiana. The subcommittee hope to have it ready to submit to the full committee this evening or tonight.

Mr. Bryan clearly dominates the resolutions committee. By a vote of 41 to 11 he forced through a motion at the meeting in favor of postponing the adoption of the platform until after the candidates for president and vice president have been nominated. The rules committee, as a result of the Bryan motion, adopted by the resolutions committee, by a vote of 22 to 16 voted to report in the order of business to the convention that the platform be reserved until after nominations are made.

Gompers Heard.

The full committee on resolutions began hearings on the platform. The first to be heard was Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. He was assured that the resolutions committee will report a plank reaffirming the declaration made by the Denver convention and possibly for some form of employers' liability and workmen's compensation legislation.

Mr. Gompers touched upon the employers' liability legislation, and he aroused the committee. Senator Culberson opposed the bill that is now pending in the senate, and Mr. Bryan showed plainly by his questions that he was opposed to it.

Mr. Gompers shocked the committee somewhat by saying the present bill, framed by a joint committee of congress and recommended by President Taft, is the most perfect bill ever offered.

Senator Culberson pointed out his two objections to the employers' liability bill. The first was that it made the remedy exclusive instead of optional, and the second was that the compensation was inadequate.

Mr. Gompers replied that the labor people could hardly insist that they be given an option without conceding to the employer the same right.

Mr. Gompers approved the Clayton anti-injunction bill and the Clayton contempt bill. Mr. Gompers, in the course of his remarks before the committee, said:

"I admit that early in life I acted with the Republican party, voting for its candidates and the platform, but I made up my mind several years ago that the Republican party was not playing fairly with the great masses of the American people." Gompers closed with a condemnation of the way the Republicans at Chicago had treated labor's demands.

Quizzed by Bryan.

Mr. Bryan then turned his attention to grilling Mr. Emery, representative of the manufacturing associations. After he had secured from the speaker the admission that the late President Van Cleve of the association had come out for the Republican ticket in the campaign of 1908 and advised the manufacturers in a letter sent out by them to vote for Taft and Sherman, Mr. Bryan observed: "Then your organization is a political one, not a commercial one?" Mr. Emery declared that it was not a political organization, but that it stood ready to repel the attacks upon it.

Representative Rucker of Colorado warned the committee on resolutions not to endorse Canadian reciprocity, which, he told them, had "enabled Roosevelt to beat President Taft in many important states."

Albert Sidney Gregg of Cleveland, O., urged an amendment to the constitution prohibiting polygamy, and expressed the hope that it would not "affect any member of the committee personally."

M. L. Quezon, delegate from the Philippines in the house of representatives, urged the Democrats to repeat their declaration in favor of Filipino Independence.

Congressman B. J. Lewis of Maryland, representing a number of labor organizations, urged the Democratic committee to declare in favor of wiping out express companies and substituting parcels posts therefor.

Eugene S. Ives of Arizona asked the committee to recommend that a national constitutional convention be called to amend the federal constitution.

Professor I. L. Fisher and Senator Robert L. Owen asked the committee to declare in favor of a department of public health, and Representative Gregg of Texas, a member of the house committee on naval affairs, appeared to warn the committee that there was secret effort being made to commit the Democratic national convention in favor of the two battle-ship program, and he advised them, in the interest of economy, to avoid it.

It is a belief here that Mr. Bryan, if he succeeds in nominating a ticket to his own liking, intends to write a radical program. It is reported he will try to put through a resolution reading the Ryans and Belmonts out of the Democratic party.

Congress Would Prevent Shutdown of Government Operations.

Washington, June 27.—To prevent the threatened shutdown of government operations next Monday because of the failure of congress to pass the necessary appropriation bills, an effort is being made in congress today to pass a joint resolution extending appropriations through the first two weeks of the fiscal year.

When Speaker Clark came to a realization of the serious embarrassment that is impending on July 1, he began to get into communication with his leaders to arrange for action in the house today.

At the navy department all preparations were made for the closing of the navy yards from the Atlantic coast to the Philippines. More than 20,000 men will be without work Monday morning unless congress acts.

Deadly Flobert Rifle is Busy

Miss Kate Doster, a well known young lady of Chillicothe, was shot through the lungs and perhaps fatally injured Wednesday, the result of a ten-year-old boy being entrusted with a flobert rifle and shooting promiscuously.

Miss Doster had stepped into the back yard when the boy, a son of B. & O. Traindispatcher Miller, fired at a mark and the ball penetrated the young woman's breast and pierced her lung. Her screams attracted her sister, who beheld the blood streaming down her waist and rushed to her. Physicians say she may probably recover. Miss Doster is a relative of Senator Coke L. Doster of Greenfield.

SOMETHING ABOUT CHINAWARE.

Every woman is proud of her china, and wants to keep it looking new and perfect. So often she will use the wrong kind of soap on it and injure it in appearance—make it look worn and cheap. "Easy Task Soap"—the hard, white, pure laundry soap—is the only kind to use on china. Not only does it clean china quickly and safely, but its antiseptic qualities sterilize the china. In these days of germ-caused diseases this is an important point.

Chillicothe No Place For Dawgs

At the last meeting of the Chillicothe City council an ordinance was passed requiring that all dogs be tagged, the license tag to be placed about the animal's neck, or the dog will be taken to the pound.

Each license must cost $1 and if it is lost a duplicate will be issued for 25c. The council also directed the mayor to issue a proclamation that all dogs must be muzzled during a specified time, or else they will be killed.

It is believed that the dog license will eliminate the common curs which infest the village streets. Such method has been discussed in this city, but so far no action has been taken.

A Weird and Wonderful Sight

One of the most beautiful and interesting sights to be seen is an eclipse of the sun. It is quite a remarkable fact that the sun is 400 times as broad as the moon, and at the same time is about 400 times as far away. So to us they appear to be the same size.

A total eclipse of the sun is a very impressive and wonderful sight, says Harold W. Clark in the Farm and Home. As the time of the total eclipse draws near, the darkness increases. About 10 minutes before totality, the darkness can almost be felt. Men's faces show a copper color, which makes them look ghastly. Birds cease their songs and go to roost. Flowers close, and an awful stillness rests upon all the face of nature. The temperature falls, and dew appears. Then away in the west we see the shadow of the moon coming with almost terrifying swiftness. It comes at the rate of 1000 miles an hour, and pounces upon us so suddenly that we are startled. Looking at the sun we see it wholly covered by the moon, but surrounded by a brilliant light which flashes out all around it. This is the corona and is seen only during total eclipses. The eclipse lasts only for four or five minutes, and then the shadow of the moon passes us and we can see the sun again. The next one in the United States will run from Oregon to Florida, and will be in 1918. In 1925 the path will run from Duluth to New Haven, Conn. If any of us gets a chance to see one, we should count ourselves lucky indeed. It would be worth going many miles to see.

He called upon Mr. Prendergast to attack this.

"I was approached," explained Mr. Prendergast, "and asked to go to Mr. Roosevelt as a personal friend and tell him that the contested delegates in California, Washington and Texas will be allowed if he would throw his influence to Governor Hadley or to some other candidate."

"But you know what I said," the colonel broke in here, recalling his rejection of these overtures. "With them it was anything to beat me. They will go down to Baltimore to get their candidates. Taft or Parker, it is all one to them. The men behind that conservative bunch would prefer Bryan or Wilson, or anybody else, to me," he continued with vigor, "and I know them and they know me."

Colonel Roosevelt declared that he knew nothing about the conferences which several of his most pronounced adherents have had in Baltimore with Bryan and Wilson.

Blind Senator Looses Healthy Roll Of Money

Senator Gore's Experience at the Baltimore Convention.

Baltimore, June 27.—United States Senator Gore of Oklahoma was without money for a short time. When the senator and his wife returned from the convention to their apartments in a hotel here, they found that thieves had taken $125. Senator Gore had troubles in getting a check cashed, but when friends learned of his financial difficulties he soon got money. For a time it looked as if the blind senator and his wife would have to rustle for their luncheon.

CAN'T SEE JOKE.

Tarrytown, N. Y., June 27.—An Italian employed in the railroad yards is convinced that an elephant has no sense of humor. The Italian essayed to entertain a number of friends by feeding an elephant in a freight car a pint or so of black pepper. The elephant took the pepper in good faith and the sneeze that followed nearly knocked him down. Enraged, Jumbo grabbed the Italian with his trunk and threw him 50 feet away into a car of coal. The Italian was badly injured, but was assisted home by his friends.

BURNS, CUTS, BRUISES.

San Cura Ointment Stops Pain at Once, Draws Out all Poisons, and Heals Promptly.

In all the world there is no ointment, no liniment, no remedy for burns, cuts and bruises that can compare with the antiseptic ointment called San Cura.

Every person ought to have a jar on hand; it is the first and best aid to the injured in case of accident, and is the ideal remedy for so many other distressing and painful ailments besides.

For example: It is guaranteed by Brown's Drug Store to cure itching, bleeding and protruding piles, eczema, tetter, ulcers, salt rheum, boils, carbuncles and pimples, or money back.

In case of old running sores, no matter how long standing, a few poultices of San Cura Ointment will draw out every particle of poison, and leave it in such a thoroughly antiseptic condition that the sore will heal, never to break open again.

We advise every reader to get a jar of San Cura Ointment today and keep it ready for an accident or emergency that may happen. 25 cents and 50 cents at Brown's Drug Store on the money-back plan.

SOAP FOR THE SCALP.

San Cura Soap is delightful for shampooing, because it is full of antiseptic properties that banish the germs of dandruff and other impurities from the scalp. It cures pimples and blackheads, too. 25 cents a cake at Brown's Drug Store.

Party Platform Is Being Buildea

Representatives of Various Interests Given a Hearing.

GOMPERS BEFORE COMMITTEE

Assured That a Plank Will Be Incorporated Reaffirming the Denver Declaration and Possibly For Employers' Liability and Workmen's Compensation Legislation—Representative of the Manufacturers' Association Questioned by Bryan.

Baltimore, June 27.—A subcommittee of 12 distinguished Democratic statesmen are at work on the first draft of the party platform. The full committee listened to arguments in support of various planks submitted to the committee for its consideration. Before the hearings began, Senator Kern of Indiana, chairman of the committee on resolutions, announced the names of the subcommittee of 11 who, together with himself, are drafting the platform. This subcommittee is composed of the following, in addition to Mr. Kern, who will be ex-officio chairman:

Senator Charles A. Culberson of Texas, W. J. Bryan of Nebraska, Senator Isador Rayner, Senator James A. O'Gorman of New York, Senator Thomas S. Martin of Virginia, Senator Pomerene of Ohio, George W. Flithan of Illinois, A. M. Dockery of Missouri, S. W. Belford of Nevada, Thomas J. Walsh of Montana and Congressman R. F. Broussard of Louisiana. The subcommittee hope to have it ready to submit to the full committee this evening or tonight.

Mr. Bryan clearly dominates the resolutions committee. By a vote of 41 to 11 he forced through a motion at the meeting in favor of postponing the adoption of the platform until after the candidates for president and vice president have been nominated. The rules committee, as a result of the Bryan motion, adopted by the resolutions committee, by a vote of 22 to 16 voted to report in the order of business to the convention that the platform be reserved until after nominations are made.

Gompers Heard.

The full committee on resolutions began hearings on the platform. The first to be heard was Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. He was assured that the resolutions committee will report a plank reaffirming the declaration made by the Denver conven-

HUNT FOR RICH GIRL.
Often the hunt for a rich wife ends when the man meets a woman that uses Electric Bitters. Her strong nerves tell in a bright brain and even temper. Her peach-bloom complexion and ruby lips result from her pure blood; her bright eyes from restful sleep; her elastic step from firm, free muscles, all telling of the health and strength Electric Bitters give a woman, and the freedom from indigestion, backache, headache, fainting and dizzy spells they promote. Everywhere they are woman's favorite remedy. If weak or ailing try them. 50c at Blackmer & Tanquary.

Violent Electrical Storm During Night

One of the most violent electrical storms of the season swept over the city and county from ten until nearly midnight Wednesday night, and hail is reported in the eastern part of the county.

The continual flash of lightning and crashing of thunder caused some apprehension among those who fear tornadoes. So far as known the principal damage done by the lightning was to telephones and trees, although many of the bolts fell close to various residences in the country and near the outskirts of the city.

The storm came from the east, and for some time the storm center hung over the country east of this city.

A drenching rain did a great deal of good to growing crops.

WHEN WOMAN'S WORK IS DONE.

Somebody said, "Woman's work is never done." Anything that emancipates her from this form of slavery is hailed with joy. This is the reason for the constantly increasing popularity of "Easy Task Soap," the hard, white, pure laundry soap, that does half the work of wash-day by itself. Add to this the fact that it positively does not rot or streak the clothes, that it launders laces, linens, flannels, silks, bedding, table cloths and all fabrics perfectly, and you will understand why it should be in your house right away.

INDEPENDENCE.
Congressman B. J. Lewis of Maryland, representing a number of labor organizations, urged the Democratic committee to declare in favor of wiping out express companies and substituting parcels posts therefor.

Eugene S. Ives of Arizona asked the committee to recommend that a national constitutional convention be called to amend the federal constitution.

Professor L. L. Fisher and Senator Robert L. Owen asked the committee to declare in favor of a department of public health, and Representative Gregg of Texas, a member of the house committee on naval affairs, appeared to warn the committee that there was secret effort being made to commit the Democratic national convention in favor of the two battleship program, and he advised them, in the interest of economy, to avoid it.

It is a belief here that Mr. Bryan, if he succeeds in nominating a ticket to his own liking, intends to write a radical platform. It is reported he will try to put through a resolution reading the Ryans and Belmonts out of the Democratic party.

May Vote Money Today

Congress Would Prevent Shutdown of Government Operations.

Washington, June 27.—To prevent the threatened shutdown of government operations next Monday because of the failure of congress to pass the necessary appropriation bills, an effort is being made in congress today to pass a joint resolution extending appropriations through the first two weeks of the fiscal year.

When Speaker Clark came to a realization of the serious embarrassment that is impending on July 1, he began to get into communication with his leaders to arrange for action in the house today.

At the navy department all preparations were made for the closing of the navy yards from the Atlantic coast to the Philippines. More than 20,000 men will be without work Monday morning unless congress acts.

Deadly Flobert Rifle is Busy

Miss Kate Doster, a well known young lady of Chillicothe, was shot through the lungs and perhaps fatally injured Wednesday, the result of a ten-year-old boy being intrusted with a flobert rifle and shooting promiscuously.

Miss Doster had stepped into the back yard when the boy, a son of B. & O. Traindispatcher Miller, fired at a mark and the ball penetrated the young woman's breast and pierced her lung. Her screams attracted her sister, who beheld the blood streaming down her waist and rushed to her. Physicians say she may probably recover. Miss Doster is a relative of Senator Coke L. Doster of Greenfield.

SOMETHING ABOUT CHINAWARE.

Every woman is proud of her china, and wants to keep it looking new and perfect. So often she will use the wrong kind of soap on it and injure it in appearance—make it look worn and cheap. "Easy Task Soap"—the hard, white, pure laundry soap—is the only kind to use on china. Not only does it clean china quickly and safely, but its antiseptic qualities sterilize the china. In these days of germ-caused diseases this is an important point.

Chillicothe No Place For Dawgs

At the last meeting of the Chillicothe City council an ordinance was passed requiring that all dogs be tagged, the license tag to be placed about the animal's neck, or the dog will be taken to the pound.

Each license must cost $1 and if it is lost a duplicate will be issued for 25c. The council also directed the mayor to issue a proclamation that all dogs must be muzzled during a specified time, or else they will be killed.

It is believed that the dog license will eliminate the common curs which infest the village streets. Such method has been discussed in this city, but so far no action has been taken.

WASHINGTON DRUGGIST DESERVES CREDIT

Christopher deserves praise from Washington C. H. people for introducing here the simple buckthorn bark and glycerine mixture, known as Adler-i-ka. This simple German remedy first became famous by curing appendicitis and it has now been discovered that A SINGLE DOSE removes sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation INSTANTLY. It is the only remedy which never fails.

A Weird and Wonderful Sight

One of the most beautiful and interesting sights to be seen is an eclipse of the sun. It is quite a remarkable fact that the sun is 400 times as broad as the moon, and at the same time is about 400 times as far away. So to us they appear to be the same size.

A total eclipse of the sun is a very impressive and wonderful sight, says Harold W. Clark in the Farm and Home. As the time of the total eclipse draws near, the darkness increases. About 10 minutes before totality, the darkness can almost be felt. Men's faces show a copper color, which makes them look ghastly. Birds cease their songs and go to roost. Flowers close, and an awful stillness rests upon all the face of nature. The temperature falls, and dew appears. Then away in the west we see the shadow of the moon coming with almost terrifying swiftness. It comes at the rate of 1000 miles an hour, and pounces upon us so suddenly that we are startled. Looking at the sun we see it wholly covered by the moon, but surrounded by a brilliant light which flashes out all around it. This is the corona and is seen only during total eclipses. The eclipse lasts only for four or five minutes, and then the shadow of the moon passes us and we can see the sun again. The next one in the United States will run from Oregon to Florida, and will be in 1918. In 1925 the path will run from Duluth to New Haven, Conn. If any of us gets a chance to see one, we should count ourselves lucky indeed. It would be worth going many miles to see.

MOVE ON NOW!

says a policeman to a street crowd, and whacks heads if it don't. "Move on now," says the big, harsh mineral pills to bowel congestion and suffering fellows. Dr. King's New Life Pills don't bulldoze the bowels. They gently persuade them to right action, and health follows. 25c at Blackmer & Tanquary.

LEIFIELD EARNS HIS SPURS

In First Game With Cubs Former Pirate Twirler Holds Brooklyn to Four Measly Hits.

Lefty Leifield, until recently a Pirate, did himself handsome in his debut as a member of the Cub team. Lefty gave Brooklyn a little impersonation entitled "Stingy," and the Dodgers agreed unanimously that as an impersonator Lefty ought to get big money on the vaudeville circuit when he gets through with baseball.

Lefty held the easterners to four measly bingles and whipped them, 7 to 2.

Leifield never was in trouble if you can forget the first inning, when a base on balls was followed by a double, which, in turn, was trailed by a single, scoring two runs. After that the Dodgers were easy picking, and whenever things looked the least bit dangerous Lefty closed up on them. He only resorted to strikeouts once, and that was when there were two men on and none out, showing that he was confident of himself all the way.

"Lefty" Leifield.

Sykes Misses a Game.
 The game at Mobile between the Crackers and Gulls on May 5 was the first regularly scheduled game Earl Sykes has missed in three years where his own club was playing. In 1910 he went through the entire season with the Dayton Central League club without missing even one inning, and last year he went through every inning of each game played by the Crackers without missing and played 17 games this season before a split finger forced him from the line-up. In all, Sykes participated in 300 successive games without missing an inning.

Another Walter Johnson.
 There is another Walter Johnson appearing in the offing. He is captain of a Youngstown, O., high school team, where he has made a great record. He graduates there this year and goes to Harvard and his admirers say it is from the college diamond to the big league sure.

Scattering Notes of the Diamond

Atlanta has released Pitchers Paige and Johns to Montgomery.

Larry Cheney is proving himself more than a flash in the pan.

Connie Mack evidently has picked up another star in Pitcher Pennock. Van Dyke, Worcester's star pitcher, will join the Boston Americans in the fall.

Toledo has Hohnhorst batting way down in the list, ahead of catcher and pitcher.

Red Kuhn looks like the white hope of the Sox catching staff in these days of hospital squads.

Cap Anson is arranging to gather a team of Indians from Minnesota and go on tour this summer.

"Jeff" Pfeffer, the former Chicago-Boston pitcher, is managing a team in the Greater Boston league.

The Dodgers are only saved from last place because they can't lose quite as often and consistently as Boston.

Lellvelt, whom Clark Griffith sent to the minors, is leading the International league with a batting average of .405.

Harry Howell, until recently on President Barrow's umpire staff, has caught on as an umpire in the Texas league.

The veteran manager and player, Bill Carney, has put in an application with President Chivington for a job as umpire.

Harry Mace, umpire in the Virginia league, has a son catching for a team in the circuit. If son should attempt to sass dad, would the umpire use a shingle?

New Orleans has sold Catcher Lee Lemon, secured from Birmingham, to Fort Worth and again taken on Nagelson, who had been returned to Toledo. Lemon could hit, but could not throw.

PITCHERS CAN'T MAKE GOOD

Miserable Exhibition of Cincinnati Twirlers Has Been Great Disappointment to Fans.

The great disappointment of the Cincinnati Reds this year has been in the pitching staff and Manager O'Day's fingers, taking them as a whole, are putting up the most miserable exhibition in the National league, their failure having practically killed the hopes of Red fans for a look-in at the pennant. One of the big disappointments has been Pitcher Harry Gaspar. The Iowa photographer started off well, but recently has joined his fellows on the pitching staff in boosting batting averages of opponents, says the Detroit Journal. O'Day now hopes to make a trade for him and it is possible that Gaspar in new company will recover some of his old prowess.

Harry Gaspar.

CINCINNATI TWIRLER IN EXCELLENT FORM

Among the Baseball Players

Griffith is the Sherlock Holmes of the coaching box on balks.

Hank O'Day is still looking for pitchers to brace up his dilapidated staff.

Pitcher McTigue has been released by Johnny Kling of the Boston Braves to Buffalo.

Pitcher Sam Frock, recently turned loose by Baltimore, has been taken on by Kansas City.

Pitcher Walter Miller has been sold to the Elmira club of the New York State league by Atlanta.

With Brooklyn and Boston at the bottom of the percentages that old column looks natural again.

Cub fans would appreciate it if Cheney pitched as well with none on bases as he does with the sacks crowded.

Hugh Kellackey, manager of the Boise team, who died recently, was a brother-in-law of Bill Bradley of Toronto.

Toronto sells Jim McGinley to Wilkesbarre and Ed Winters to Binghamton, both in the New York State league.

The reputation of pulling the unexpected has become the property of the White Sox as well as the Athletics this year.

Johnny Kling says that Bridwell is not through as a player, and that even if he were the Braves would keep him as a scout.

Heine Zimmerman will have a half nelson on one of those automobiles by fall if he keeps up his great batting record.

Ed Killian, the once famous left hander, who won many a game for the Detroit Tigers, has been given his unconditional release by Buffalo.

Promising Young Pacer Is Dead

Mallow's Wreath, a splendid young pacer of great promise, owned by Carl Mallow, died at the barn on the fair grounds Wednesday evening after being sick for some little time, and with its death one of the most promising pacers in the state passes out of existence.

A number of veterinarians had been called in to assist in saving the valuable animal, and everything known to the profession was done without avail.

The animal was valued at $3,000 or better, and so far as known there was no insurance.

LEIFIELD EARNS HIS SPURS

In First Game With Cubs Former Pirate Twirler Holds Brooklyn to Four Measly Hits.

Lefty Leifield, until recently a Pirate, did himself handsome in his debut as a member of the Cub team. Lefty gave Brooklyn a little impersonation entitled "Stingy," and the Dodgers agreed unanimously that as an impersonator Lefty ought to get big money on the vaudeville circuit when he gets through with baseball.

Lefty held the easterners to four measly bingles and whipped them, 7 to 2.

Leifield never was in trouble if you can forget the first inning, when a base on balls was followed by a double.

"Lefty" Leifield.

ble, which, in turn, was trailed by a single, scoring two runs. After that the Dodgers were easy picking, and whenever things looked the least bit dangerous Lefty closed up on them. He only resorted to strikeouts once, and that was when there were two men on and none out, showing that he was confident of himself all the way.

Sykes Misses a Game.

The game at Mobile between the Crackers and Gulls on May 5 was the first regularly scheduled game Earl Sykes has missed in three years where his own club was playing. In 1910 he went through the entire season with the Dayton Central League club without missing even one inning, and last year he went through every inning of each game played by the Crackers without missing and played 17 games this season before a split finger forced him from the line-up. In all, Sykes participated in 300 successive games without missing an inning.

Another Walter Johnson.

There is another Walter Johnson appearing in the offing. He is captain of a Youngstown, O., high school team, where he has made a great record. He graduates there this year and goes to Harvard and his admirers say it is from the college diamond to the big league sure.

Scattering Notes of the Diamond

Atlanta has released Pitchers Paige and Johns to Montgomery.

Larry Cheney is proving himself more than a flash in the pan.

Connie Mack evidently has picked up another star in Pitcher Penneck.

Van Dyke, Worcester's star pitcher, will join the Boston Americans in the fall.

Toledo has Hohnhorst batting way down in the list, ahead of catcher and pitcher.

Red Kuhn looks like the white hope of the Sox catching staff in these days of hospital squads.

Cap Anson is arranging to gather a team of Indians from Minnesota and go on tour this summer.

"Jeff" Pfeffer, the former Chicago-Boston pitcher, is managing a team in the Greater Boston league.

The Dodgers are only saved from last place because they can't lose quite as often and consistently as Boston.

Lelivelt, whom Clark Griffith sent to the minors, is leading the International league with a batting average of .405.

Harry Howell, until recently on President Barrow's umpire staff, has caught on as an umpire in the Texas league.

The veteran manager and player, Bill Carney, has put in an application with President Chivington for a job as umpire.

Harry Mace, umpire in the Virginia league, has a son catching for a team in the circuit. If son should attempt to sass dad, would the umpire use a shingle?

New Orleans has sold Catcher Lee Lemon, secured from Birmingham, to Fort Worth and again taken on Nagel-son, who had been returned to Toledo. Lemon could hit, but could not throw.

pointments has been Pitcher Harry Gaspar. The Iowa photographer started off well, but recently has joined his fellows on the pitching staff in boosting batting averages of opponents, says the Detroit Journal. O'Day now hopes to make a trade for him and it is possible that Gaspar in new company will recover some of his old prowess.

Miserable Exhibition of Cincinnati Twirlers Has Been Great Disappointment to Fans.

The great disappointment of the Cincinnati Reds this year has been in the pitching staff and Manager O'Day's fingers, taking them as a whole, are putting up the most miserable exhibition in the National league, their failure having practically killed the hopes of Red fans for a look-in at the pennant. Among the Baseball Players

Griffith is the Sherlock Holmes of the coaching box on balks.

Hank O'Day is still looking for pitchers to brace up his dilapidated staff.

Pitcher McTigue has been released by Johnny Kling of the Boston Braves to Buffalo.

Pitcher Sam Frock, recently turned loose by Baltimore, has been taken on by Kansas City.

Pitcher Walter Miller has been sold to the Elmira club of the New York State league by Atlanta.

With Brooklyn and Boston at the bottom of the percentages that old column looks natural again.

Cub fans would appreciate it if Cheney pitched as well with none on bases as he does with the sacks crowded.

Hugh Kellackey, manager of the Boise team, who died recently, was a brother-in-law of Bill Bradley of Toronto.

Toronto sells Jim McGinley to Wilkesbarre and Ed Winters to Birmingham, both in the New York State league.

The reputation of pulling the unexpected has become the property of the White Sox as well as the Athletics this year.

Johnny Kling says that Bridwell is not through as a player, and that even if he were the Braves would keep him as a scout.

Heine Zimmerman will have a half nelson on one of those automobiles by fall if he keeps up his great batting record.

Ed Killian, the once famous left hander, who won many a game for the Detroit Tigers, has been given his unconditional release by Buffalo.

Promising Young Pacer Is Dead

Mallow's Wreath, a splendid young pacer of great promise, owned by Carl Mallow, died at the barn on the fair grounds Wednesday evening after being sick for some little time, and with its death one of the most promising pacers in the state passes out of existence.

A number of veterinarians had been called in to assist in saving the valuable animal, and everything known to the profession was done without avail.

The animal was valued at $3,000 or better, and so far as known there was no insurance.

TEDDY WILL BE A REAL LEADER OF NEW PARTY

Colonel Roosevelt Takes Pains to Make This Clear.

TO FIGHT TO THE BITTER END

Gives Out a Statement For the Purpose of Heading Off Any Movement Towards Another Candidate For Progressives—Denies Knowledge of Any Overtures Being Made at Baltimore—Comptroller Prendergast at Sagamore Hill.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 27.—The real leader of the third party movement is Theodore Roosevelt. The colonel makes this clear and says he will stay in the fight to the end.

Comptroller Prendergast, after an extended conference with the former president, issued a terse statement in which he heads off any move either at Baltimore or in the conference preliminary to the colonel's convention toward another candidate for the progressives. "The object for which this fraud was perpetrated," declares Mr. Prendergast, among other things in his statement, "was the defeat of Mr. Roosevelt, not the nomination of anybody else. The conspiracy will be successful if any other man is elected to the presidency. The object of every honest man should, therefore, be to elect him."

"I have had hundreds of letters and telegrams," said the colonel, "from people all over the country, urging me to continue to lead the fight."

In commenting upon a passage in Mr. Prendergast's statement which says "that should either Mr. Taft or a Democrat be elected, the success of the conspirators will be complete," the colonel recounted with great warmth the personal nature of the opposition to him. He called upon Mr. Prendergast to attest this.

"I was approached," explained Mr. Prendergast, "and asked to go to Mr. Roosevelt as a personal friend and tell him that the contested delegates in California, Washington and Texas will be allowed if he would throw his influence to Governor Hadley or to some other candidate."

"But you know what I said," the colonel broke in here, recalling his rejection of these overtures. "With them it was anything to beat me. They will go down to Baltimore to get their candidates. Taft or Parker, it is all one to them. The men behind that conservative bunch would prefer Bryan or Wilson, or anybody else, to me," he continued with vigor, "and I know them and they know me."

Colonel Roosevelt declared that he knew nothing about the conference which several of his most pronounced adherents have had in Baltimore with Bryan and Wilson.

BURNS, CUTS, BRUISES.

San Cura Ointment Stops Pain at Once, Draws Out all Poisons, and Heals Promptly.

In all the world there is no ointment, no liniment, no remedy for burns, cuts and bruises that can compare with the antiseptic ointment called San Cura.

Every person ought to have a jar on hand; it is the first and best aid to the injured in case of accident, and is the ideal remedy for so many other distressing and painful ailments besides.

For example: It is guaranteed by Brown's Drug Store to cure itching, bleeding and protruding piles, eczema, tetter, ulcers, salt rheum, boils, carbuncles and pimples, or money back.

In case of old running sores, no matter how long standing, a few poultices of San Cura Ointment will draw out every particle of poison, and leave it in such a thoroughly antiseptic condition that the sore will heal, never to break open again.

We advise every reader to get a jar of San Cura Ointment today and keep it ready for an accident or emergency that may happen. 25 cents and 50 cents at Brown's Drug Store on the money-back plan.

SOAP FOR THE SCALP.

San Cura Soap is delightful for shampooing, because it is full of antiseptic properties that banish the germs of dandruff and other impurities from the scalp. It cures pimples and blackheads, too. 25 cents a cake at Brown's Drug Store.

ENDS HUNT FOR RICH GIRL

Often the hunt for a rich wife ends when the man meets a woman that uses Electric Bitters. Her strong nerves tell in a bright brain and even temper. Her peach-bloom complexion and ruby lips result from her pure blood; her bright eyes from restful sleep; her elastic step from firm, free muscles, all telling of the health and strength Electric Bitters give a woman, and the freedom from indigestion, backache, headache, fainting and dizzy spells they promote. Everywhere they are woman's favorite remedy. If weak or ailing try them. 50c at Blackmer & Tanquary.

Violent Electrical Storm During Night

One of the most violent electrical storms of the season swept over the city and county from ten until nearly midnight Wednesday night, and hail is reported in the eastern part of the county.

The continual flash of lightning and crashing of thunder caused some apprehension among those who fear tornadoes. So far as known the principal damage done by the lightning was to telephones and trees, although many of the bolts fell close to various residences in the country and near the outskirts of the city.

The storm came from the east, and for some time the storm center hung over the country east of this city.

A drenching rain did a great deal of good to growing crops.

WHEN WOMAN'S WORK IS DONE.

Somebody said, "Woman's work is never done." Anything that emancipates her from this form of slavery is hailed with joy. This is the reason for the constantly increasing popularity of "Easy Task Soap," the hard, white, pure laundry soap, that does half the work of wash-day by itself. Add to this the fact that it positively does not rot or streak the clothes, that it launders laces, linens, flannels, silks, bedding, table cloths and all fabrics perfectly, and you will understand why it should be in your house right away.

Party Platform Is Being Buildea

Representatives of Various Interests Given a Hearing.

GOMPERS BEFORE COMMITTEE

Assured That a Plank Will Be Incorporated Reaffirming the Denver Declaration and Possibly For Employers' Liability and Workmen's Compensation Legislation—Representative of the Manufacturers' Association Questioned by Bryan.

Baltimore, June 27.—A subcommittee of 12 distinguished Democratic statesmen are at work on the first draft of the party platform. The full committee listened to arguments in support of various planks submitted to the committee for its consideration. Before the hearings began, Senator Kern of Indiana, chairman of the committee on resolutions, announced the names of the subcommittee of 11 who, together with himself, are drafting the platform. This subcommittee is composed of the following, in addition to Mr. Kern, who will be ex-officio chairman:

Senator Charles A. Culberson of Texas, W. J. Bryan of Nebraska, Senator Isador Rayner, Senator James A. O'Gorman of New York, Senator Thomas S. Martin of Virginia, Senator Pomeroy of Ohio, George W. Fithian of Illinois, A. M. Dockery of Missouri, S. W. Belford of Nevada, Thomas J. Walsh of Montana and Congressman R. F. Broussard of Louisiana. The subcommittee hope to have it ready to submit to the full committee this evening or tonight.

Mr. Bryan clearly dominates the resolutions committee. By a vote of 41 to 11 he forced through a motion at the meeting in favor of postponing the adoption of the platform until after the candidates for president and vice president have been nominated. The rules committee, as a result of the Bryan motion, adopted by the resolutions committee, by a vote of 22 to 16 voted to report in the order of business to the convention that the platform be reserved until after nominations are made.

Gompers Heard.

The full committee on resolutions began hearings on the platform. The first to be heard was Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. He was assured that the resolutions committee will report a plank reaffirming the declaration made by the Denver convention and possibly for some form of employers' liability and workmen's compensation legislation.

Mr. Gompers touched upon the employers' liability legislation, and he aroused the committee. Senator Culberson opposed the bill that is now pending in the senate, and Mr. Bryan showed plainly by his questions that he was opposed to it.

Mr. Gompers shocked the committee somewhat by saying the present bill, framed by a joint committee of congress and recommended by President Taft, is the most perfect bill ever offered.

Senator Culberson pointed out his two objections to the employers' liability bill. The first was that it made the remedy exclusive instead of optional, and the second was that the compensation was inadequate.

Mr. Gompers replied that the labor people could hardly insist that they be given an option without conceding to the employer the same right.

Mr. Gompers approved the Clayton anti-injunction bill and the Clayton contempt bill. Mr. Gompers, in the course of his remarks before the committee, said:

"I admit that early in life I acted with the Republican party, voting for its candidates and the platform, but I made up my mind several years ago that the Republican party was not playing fairly with the great masses of the American people." Gompers closed with a condemnation of the way the Republicans at Chicago had treated labor's demands.

Quizzed by Bryan.

Mr. Bryan then turned his attention to grilling Mr. Emery, representative of the manufacturing associations. After he had secured from the speaker the admission that the late President Van Cleve of the association had come out for the Republican ticket in the campaign of 1908 and advised the manufacturers in a letter sent out by them to vote for Taft and Sherman, Mr. Bryan observed: "Then your organization is a political one, not a commercial one?" Mr. Emery declared that it was not a political organization, but that it stood ready to repel the attacks upon it.

Representative Rucker of Colorado warned the committee on resolutions not to endorse Canadian reciprocity, which, he told them, had "enabled Roosevelt to beat President Taft in many important states."

Albert Sidney Gregg of Cleveland, O., urged an amendment to the constitution prohibiting polygamy, and expressed the hope that it would not "affect any member of the committee personally."

M. L. Quezon, delegate from the Philippines in the house of representatives, urged the Democrats to repeat their declaration in favor of Filipino independence.

Congressman B. J. Lewis of Maryland, representing a number of labor organizations, urged the Democratic committee to declare in favor of wiping out express companies and substituting parcels posts therefor.

Eugene S. Ives of Arizona asked the committee to recommend that a national constitutional convention be called to amend the federal constitution.

Professor I. L. Fisher and Senator Robert L. Owen asked the committee to declare in favor of a department of public health, and Representative Gregg of Texas, a member of the house committee on naval affairs, appeared to warn the committee that there was secret effort being made to commit the Democratic national convention in favor of the two battle-ship program, and he advised them, in the interest of economy, to avoid it.

It is a belief here that Mr. Bryan, if he succeeds in nominating a ticket to his own liking, intends to write a radical platform. It is reported he will try to put through a resolution reading the Ryans and Belmonts out of the Democratic party.

May Vote Money Today

Congress Would Prevent Shutdown of Government Operations.

Washington, June 27.—To prevent the threatened shutdown of government operations next Monday because of the failure of congress to pass the necessary appropriation bills, an effort is being made in congress today to pass a joint resolution extending appropriations through the first two weeks of the fiscal year.

When Speaker Clark came to a realization of the serious embarrassment that is impending on July 1, he began to get into communication with his leaders to arrange for action in the house today.

At the navy department all preparations were made for the closing of the navy yards from the Atlantic coast to the Philippines. More than 20,000 men will be without work Monday morning unless congress acts.

Deadly Flobert Rifle is Busy

Miss Kate Doster, a well known young lady of Chillicothe, was shot through the lungs and perhaps fatally injured Wednesday, the result of a ten-year-old boy being entrusted with a flobert rifle and shooting promiscuously.

Miss Doster had stepped into the back yard when the boy, a son of B. & O. Traindispatcher Miller, fired at a mark and the ball penetrated the young woman's breast and pierced her lung. Her screams attracted her sister, who beheld the blood streaming down her waist and rushed to her. Physicians say she may probably recover. Miss Doster is a relative of Senator Coke L. Doster of Greenfield.

SOMETHING ABOUT CHINAWARE.

Every woman is proud of her china, and wants to keep it looking new and perfect. So often she will use the wrong kind of soap on it and injure it in appearance—make it look worn and cheap. "Easy Task Soap"—the hard, white, pure laundry soap—is the only kind to use on china. Not only does it clean china quickly and safely, but its antiseptic qualities sterilize the china. In these days of germ-caused diseases this is an important point.

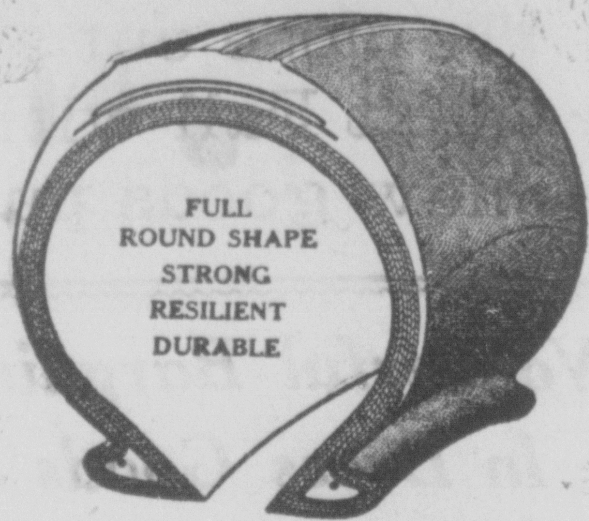

Chillicothe No Place For Dawgs

At the last meeting of the Chillicothe City council an ordinance was passed requiring that all dogs be tagged, the license tag to be placed about the animal's neck, or the dog will be taken to the pound.

Each license must cost $1 and if it is lost a duplicate will be issued for 25c. The council also directed the mayor to issue a proclamation that all dogs must be muzzled during a specified time, or else they will be killed.

It is believed that the dog license will eliminate the common curs which infest the village streets. Such method has been discussed in this city, but so far no action has been taken.

A Weird and Wonderful Sight

One of the most beautiful and interesting sights to be seen is an eclipse of the sun. It is quite a remarkable fact that the sun is 400 times as broad as the moon, and at the same time is about 400 times as far away. So to us they appear to be the same size.

A total eclipse of the sun is a very impressive and wonderful sight, says Harold W. Clark in the Farm and Home. As the time of the total eclipse draws near, the darkness increases. About 10 minutes before totality, the darkness can almost be felt. Men's faces show a copper color, which makes them look ghastly. Birds cease their songs and go to roost. Flowers close, and an awful stillness rests upon all the face of nature. The temperature falls, and dew appears. Then away in the west we see the shadow of the moon coming with almost terrifying swiftness. It comes at the rate of 1000 miles an hour, and pounces upon us so suddenly that we are startled. Looking at the sun we see it wholly covered by the moon, but surrounded by a brilliant light which flashes out all around it. This is the corona and is seen only during total eclipses. The eclipse lasts only for four or five minutes, and then the shadow of the moon passes us and we can see the sun again. The next one in the United States will run from Oregon to Florida, and will be in 1918. In 1925 the path will run from Duluth to New Haven, Conn. If any of us gets a chance to see one, we should count ourselves lucky indeed. It would be worth going many miles to see.

Blind Senator Looses Healthy Roll Of Money

Senator Gore's Experience at the Baltimore Convention.

Baltimore, June 27.—United States Senator Gore of Oklahoma was without money for a short time. When the senator and his wife returned from the convention to their apartments in a hotel here, they found that thieves had taken $125. Senator Gore had troubles in getting a check cashed, but when friends learned of his financial difficulties he soon got money. For a time it looked as if the blind senator and his wife would have to rustle for their luncheon.

Tarrytown, N. Y., June 27.—An Italian employed in the railroad yards is convinced that an elephant has no sense of humor. The Italian essayed to entertain a number of friends by feeding an elephant in a freight car a pint or so of black pepper. The elephant took the pepper in good faith, and the sneeze that followed nearly knocked him down. Enraged, Jumbo grabbed the Italian with his trunk and threw him 50 feet away into a car of coal. The Italian was badly injured, but was assisted home by his friends.

In commenting upon a passage in Mr. Prendergast's statement which says "that should either Mr. Taft or a Democrat be elected, the success of the conspirators will be complete," the colonel recounted with great warmth the personal nature of the opposition to him. He called upon Mr. Prendergast to attest this.

"I was approached," explained Mr. Prendergast, "and asked to go to Mr. Roosevelt as a personal friend and tell him that the contested delegates in California, Washington and Texas will be allowed if he would throw his influence to Governor Hadley or to some other candidate."

"But you know what I said," the colonel broke in here, recalling his rejection of these overtures. "With them it was anything to beat me. They will go down to Baltimore to get their candidates. Taft or Parker, it is all one to them. The men behind that conservative bunch would prefer Bryan or Wilson, or anybody else, to me," he continued with vigor, "and I know them and they know me."

Colonel Roosevelt declared that he knew nothing about the conference which several of his most pronounced adherents have had in Baltimore with Bryan and Wilson.

Blind Senator Loses Healthy Roll Of Money

Senator Gore's Experience at the Baltimore Convention.

Baltimore, June 27.—United States Senator Gore of Oklahoma was without money for a short time. When the senator and his wife returned from the convention to their apartments in a hotel here, they found that thieves had taken $125. Senator Gore had troubles in getting a check cashed, but when friends learned of his financial difficulties he soon got money. For a time it looked as if the blind senator and his wife would have to rustle for their luncheon.

CAN'T SEE JOKE.

Tarrytown, N. Y., June 27.—An Italian employed in the railroad yards is convinced that an elephant has no sense of humor. The Italian essayed to entertain a number of friends by feeding an elephant in a freight car a pint or so of black pepper. The elephant took the pepper in good faith, and the sneeze that followed nearly knocked him down. Enraged Jumbo grabbed the Italian with his trunk and threw him 50 feet away into a car of coal. The Italian was badly injured, but was assisted home by his friends.

BURNS, CUTS, BRUISES.

San Cura Ointment Stops Pain at Once, Draws Out all Poisons, and Heals Promptly.

In all the world there is no ointment, no liniment, no remedy for burns, cuts and bruises that can compare with the antiseptic ointment called San Cura.

Every person ought to have a jar on hand; it is the first and best aid to the injured in case of accident, and is the ideal remedy for so many other distressing and painful ailments besides.

For example: It is guaranteed by Brown's Drug Store to cure itching, bleeding and protruding piles, eczema, tetter, ulcers, salt rheum, boils, carbuncles and pimples, or money back.

In case of old running sores, no matter how long standing, a few poultices of San Cura Ointment will draw out every particle of poison, and leave it in such a thoroughly antiseptic condition that the sore will heal, never to break open again.

We advise every reader to get a jar of San Cura Ointment today and keep it ready for an accident or emergency that may happen. 25 cents and 50 cents at Brown's Drug Store on the money-back plan.

SOAP FOR THE SCALP.

San Cura Soap is delightful for shampooing, because it is full of antiseptic properties that banish the germs of dandruff and other impurities from the scalp. It cures pimples and blackheads, too. 25 cents a cake at Brown's Drug Store.

Mail orders for San Cura Ointment and Soap filled by Thompson Medical Co., Titusville, Pa.

HUNT FOR RICH GIRL.

Often the hunt for a rich wife ends when the man meets a woman that uses Electric Bitters. Her strong nerves tell in a bright brain and even temper. Her peach-bloom complexion and ruby lips result from her pure blood; her bright eyes from restful sleep; her elastic step from firm, free muscles, all telling of the health and strength Electric Bitters give a woman, and the freedom from indigestion, backache, headache, fainting and dizzy spells they promote. Everywhere they are woman's favorite remedy. If weak or ailing try them. 50c at Blackmer & Tanquary.

Violent Electrical Storm During Night

One of the most violent electrical storms of the season swept over the city and county from ten until nearly midnight Wednesday night, and hail is reported in the eastern part of the county.

The continual flash of lightning and crashing of thunder caused some apprehension among those who fear tornadoes. So far as known the principal damage done by the lightning was to telephones and trees, although many of the bolts fell close to various residences in the city and near the outskirts of the city.

The storm came from the east, and for some time the storm center hung over the country east of this city.

A drenching rain did a great deal of good to growing crops.

WHEN WOMAN'S WORK IS DONE.

Somebody said, "Woman's work is never done." Anything that emancipates her from this form of slavery is hailed with joy. This is the reason for the constantly increasing popularity of "Easy Task Soap," the hard, white, pure laundry soap, that does half the work of wash-day by itself. Add to this the fact that it positively does not rot or streak the clothes, that it launders laces, linens, flannels, silks, bedding, table cloths and all fabrics perfectly, and you will understand why it should be in your house right away.

Party Platform Is Being BUILT

Representatives of Various Interests Given a Hearing.

GOMPERS BEFORE COMMITTEE

Assured That a Plank Will Be Incorporated Reaffirming the Denver Declaration and Possibly For Employers' Liability and Workmen's Compensation Legislation—Representative of the Manufacturers' Association Questioned by Bryan.

Baltimore, June 27.—A subcommittee of 12 distinguished Democratic statesmen are at work on the first draft of the party platform. The full committee listened to arguments in support of various planks submitted to the committee for its consideration. Before the hearings began, Senator Kern of Indiana, chairman of the committee on resolutions, announced the names of the subcommittee of 11 who, together with himself, are drafting the platform. This subcommittee is composed of the following, in addition to Mr. Kern, who will be ex-officio chairman:

Senator Charles A. Culberson of Texas, W. J. Bryan of Nebraska, Senator Isador Rayner, Senator James A. O'Gorman of New York, Senator Thomas S. Martin of Virginia, Senator Pomeroy of Ohio, George W. Fithian of Illinois, A. M. Dockery of Missouri, S. W. Belford of Nevada, Thomas J. Walsh of Montana and Congressman R. F. Broussard of Louisiana. The subcommittee hope to have it ready to submit to the full committee this evening or tonight.

Mr. Bryan clearly dominates the resolutions committee. By a vote of 41 to 11 he forced through a motion at the meeting in favor of postponing the adoption of the platform until after the candidates for president and vice president have been nominated.

The rules committee, as a result of the Bryan motion, adopted by the resolutions committee, by a vote of 22 to 16 voted to report in the order of business to the convention that the platform be reserved until after nominations are made.

Gompers Heard.

The full committee on resolutions began hearings on the platform. The first to be heard was Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. He was assured that the resolutions committee will report a plank reaffirming the declaration made by the Denver convention and possibly for some form of employers' liability and workmen's compensation legislation.

Mr. Gompers touched upon the employers' liability legislation, and he aroused the committee. Senator Culberson opposed the bill that is now pending in the senate, and Mr. Bryan showed plainly by his questions that he was opposed to it.

Mr. Gompers shocked the committee somewhat by saying the present bill, framed by a joint committee of congress and recommended by President Taft, is the most perfect bill ever offered.

Senator Culberson pointed out his two objections to the employers' liability bill. The first was that it made the remedy exclusive instead of optional, and the second was that the compensation was inadequate.

Mr. Gompers replied that the labor people could hardly insist that they be given an option without conceding to the employer the same right.

Mr. Gompers approved the Clayton anti-injunction bill and the Clayton contempt bill. Mr. Gompers, in the course of his remarks before the committee, said:

"I admit that early in life I acted with the Republican party, voting for its candidates and the platform, but I made up my mind several years ago that the Republican party was not playing fairly with the great masses of the American people." Gompers closed with a condemnation of the way the Republicans at Chicago had treated labor's demands.

Quizzed by Bryan.

Mr. Bryan then turned his attention to grilling Mr. Emery, representative of the manufacturing associations. After he had secured from the speaker the admission that the late President Van Cleve of the association had come out for the Republican ticket in the campaign of 1908 and advised the manufacturers in a letter sent out by them to vote for Taft and Sherman, Mr. Bryan observed: "Then your organization is a political one, not a commercial one?" Mr. Emery declared that it was not a political organization, but that it stood ready to repel the attacks upon it.

Representative Rucker of Colorado warned the committee on resolutions not to endorse Canadian reciprocity, which, he told them, had "enabled Roosevelt to beat President Taft in many important states."

Albert Sidney Gregg of Cleveland, O., urged an amendment to the constitution prohibiting polygamy, and expressed the hope that it would not "affect any member of the committee personally."

M. L. Quezon, delegate from the Philippines in the house of representatives, urged the Democrats to repeat their declaration in favor of Filipino independence. Congressman E. J. Lewis of Maryland, representing a number of labor organizations, urged the Democratic committee to declare in favor of wiping out express companies and substituting parcels posts therefor.

Eugene S. Ives of Arizona asked the committee to recommend that a national constitutional convention be called to amend the federal constitution.

Professor I. L. Fisher and Senator Robert L. Owen asked the committee to declare in favor of a department of public health, and Representative Gregg of Texas, a member of the house committee on naval affairs, appeared to warn the committee that there was secret effort being made to commit the Democratic national convention in favor of the two battle-ship program, and he advised them, in the interest of economy, to avoid it.

It is a belief here that Mr. Bryan, if he succeeds in nominating a ticket to his own liking, intends to write a radical platform. It is reported he will try to put through a resolution reading the Ryans and Belmonts out of the Democratic party.

Congress Would Prevent Shutdown of Government Operations.

Washington, June 27.—To prevent the threatened shutdown of government operations next Monday because of the failure of congress to pass the necessary appropriation bills, an effort is being made in congress today to pass a joint resolution extending appropriations through the first two weeks of the fiscal year.

When Speaker Clark came to a realization of the serious embarrassment that is impending on July 1, he began to get into communication with his leaders to arrange for action in the house today.

At the navy department all preparations were made for the closing of the navy yards from the Atlantic coast to the Philippines. More than 20,000 men will be without work Monday morning unless congress acts.

Deadly Flobert Rifle is Busy

Miss Kate Doster, a well known young lady of Chillicothe, was shot through the lungs and perhaps fatally injured Wednesday, the result of a ten-year-old boy being entrusted with a flobert rifle and shooting promiscuously.

Miss Doster had stepped into the back yard when the boy, a son of B. & O. Traindispatcher Miller, fired at a mark and the ball penetrated the young woman's breast and pierced her lung. Her screams attracted her sister, who beheld the blood streaming down her waist and rushed to her. Physicians say she may probably recover. Miss Doster is a relative of Senator Coke L. Doster of Greenfield.

SOMETHING ABOUT CHINWARE.

Every woman is proud of her china, and wants to keep it looking new and perfect. So often she will use the wrong kind of soap on it and injure it in appearance—make it look worn and cheap. "Easy Task Soap"—the hard, white, pure laundry soap—is the only kind to use on china. Not only does it clean china quickly and safely, but its antiseptic qualities sterilize the china. In these days of germ-caused diseases this is an important point.

Chillicothe No Place For Dawgs

At the last meeting of the Chillicothe City council an ordinance was passed requiring that all dogs be tagged, the license tag to be placed about the animal's neck, or the dog will be taken to the pound.

Each license must cost $1 and if it is lost a duplicate will be issued for 25c. The council also directed the mayor to issue a proclamation that all dogs must be muzzled during a specified time, or else they will be killed.

It is believed that the dog license will eliminate the common curs which infest the village streets. Such method has been discussed in this city, but so far no action has been taken.

WASHINGTON DRUGGIST DESERVES CREDIT

Christopher deserves praise from Washington C. H. people for introducing here the simple buckthorn bark and glycerine mixture, known as Adler-i-ka. This simple German remedy first became famous by curing appendicitis and it has now been discovered that A SINGLE DOSE removes sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation INSTANTLY. It is the only remedy which never fails.

A Weird and Wonderful Sight

One of the most beautiful and interesting sights to be seen is an eclipse of the sun. It is quite a remarkable fact that the sun is 400 times as broad as the moon, and at the same time is about 400 times as far away. So to us they appear to be the same size.

A total eclipse of the sun is a very impressive and wonderful sight, says Harold W. Clark in the Farm and Home. As the time of the total eclipse draws near, the darkness increases. About 10 minutes before totality, the darkness can almost be felt. Men's faces show a copper color, which makes them look ghastly. Birds cease their songs and go to roost. Flowers close, and an awful stillness rests upon all the face of nature. The temperature falls, and dew appears. Then away in the west we see the shadow of the moon coming with almost terrifying swiftness. It comes at the rate of 1000 miles an hour, and pounces upon us so suddenly that we are startled. Looking at the sun we see it veiled covered by the moon, but surrounded by a brilliant light which flashes out all around it. This is the corona and is seen only during total eclipses. The eclipse lasts only for four or five minutes, and then the shadow of the moon passes us and we can see the sun again. The next one in the United States will run from Oregon to Florida, and will be in 1918. In 1925 the path will run from Duluth to New Haven, Conn. If any of us gets a chance to see one, we should count ourselves lucky indeed. It would be worth going many miles to see.

MOVE ON NOW!

says a policeman to a street crowd, and whacks heads if it don't. "Move on now," says the big, harsh mineral pills to bowel congestion and suffering follows. Dr. King's New Life Pills don't bulldoze the bowels. They gently persuade them to right action, and health follows. 25c at Blackmer & Tanquary.

LEIFIELD EARNS HIS SPURS

In First Game With Cubs Former Pirate Twirler Holds Brooklyn to Four Measly Hits.

Lefty Leifield, until recently a Pirate, did himself handsome in his debut as a member of the Cub team. Lefty gave Brooklyn a little impersonation entitled "Stingy," and the Dodgers agreed unanimously that as an impersonator Lefty ought to get big money on the vaudeville circuit when he gets through with baseball.

Lefty held the easterners to four measly bingles and whipped them, 7 to 2.

Leifield never was in trouble if you can forget the first inning, when a base on balls was followed by a double.

Lefty held the easterners to four measly bingles and whipped them, 7 to 2.

"Lefty" Leifield.

ble, which, in turn, was trailed by a single, scoring two runs. After that the Dodgers were easy picking, and whenever things looked the least bit dangerous Lefty closed up on them. He only resorted to strikeouts once, and that was when there were two men on and none out, showing that he was confident of himself all the way.

Sykes Misses a Game.
 The game at Mobile between the Crackers and Gulls on May 5 was the first regularly scheduled game Earl Sykes has missed in three years where his own club was playing. In 1910 he went through the entire season with the Dayton Central League club without missing even one inning, and last year he went through every inning of each game played by the Crackers without missing and played 17 games this season before a split finger forced him from the line-up. In all, Sykes participated in 300 successive games without missing an inning.

Another Walter Johnson.
 There is another Walter Johnson appearing in the offing. He is captain of a Youngstown, O., high school team, where he has made a great record. He graduates there this year and goes to Harvard and his admirers say it is from the college diamond to the big league sure.

Scattering Notes of the Diamond

Atlanta has released Pitchers Paige and Johns to Montgomery.

Larry Cheney is proving himself more than a flash in the pan.

Connie Mack evidently has picked up another star in Pitcher Penock. Van Dyke, Worcester's star pitcher, will join the Boston Americans in the fall.

Toledo has Hohnhorst batting way down in the list, ahead of catcher and pitcher.

Red Kuhn looks like the white hope of the Sox catching staff in these days of hospital squads.

Cap Anson is arranging to gather a team of Indians from Minnesota and go on tour this summer.

"Jeff" Pfeffer, the former Chicago-Boston pitcher, is managing a team in the Greater Boston league.

The Dodgers are only saved from last place because they can't lose quite as often and consistently as Boston. Lelivelt, whom Clark Griffith sent to the minors, is leading the International league with a batting average of .405.

Harry Howell, until recently on President Barrow's umpire staff, has caught on as an umpire in the Texas league.

The veteran manager and player, Bill Carney, has put in an application with President Chivington for a job as umpire.

Harry Mace, umpire in the Virginia league, has a son catching for a team in the circuit. If son should attempt to sass dad, would the umpire use a shingle?

New Orleans has sold Catcher Lee Lemon, secured from Birmingham, to Fort Worth and again taken on Nagelson, who had been returned to Toledo. Lemon could hit, but could not throw.

PITCHERS CAN'T MAKE GOOD

Miserable Exhibition of Cincinnati Twirlers Has Been Great Disappointment to Fans.

The great disappointment of the Cincinnati Reds this year has been in the pitching staff and Manager O'Day's fingers, taking them as a whole, are putting up the most miserable exhibition in the National league, their failure having practically killed the hopes of Red fans for a look-in at the pennant. One of the big disappointments has been Pitcher Harry Gaspar. The Iowa photographer started off well, but recently has joined his fellows on the pitching staff in boosting batting averages of opponents, says the Detroit Journal. O'Day now hopes to make a trade for him and it is possible that Gaspar in new company will recover some of his old prowess.

Harry Gaspar.

Among the Baseball Players

Griffith is the Sherlock Holmes of the coaching box on balks.

Hank O'Day is still looking for pitchers to brace up his dilapidated staff.

Pitcher McTigue has been released by Johnny Kling of the Boston Braves to Buffalo.

Pitcher Sam Frock, recently turned loose by Baltimore, has been taken on by Kansas City.

Pitcher Walter Miller has been sold to the Elmira club of the New York State league by Atlanta.

With Brooklyn and Boston at the bottom of the percentages that old column looks natural again.

Cub fans would appreciate it if Cheney pitched as well with none on bases as he does with the sacks crowded.

Hugh Kellackey, manager of the Boise team, who died recently, was a brother-in-law of Bill Bradley of Toronto.

Toronto sells Jim McGinley to Wilkesbarre and Ed Winters to Binghamton, both in the New York State league.

The reputation of pulling the unexpected has become the property of the White Sox as well as the Athletics this year.

Johnny Kling says that Bridwell is not through as a player, and that even if he were the Braves would keep him as a scout.

Heine Zimmerman will have a half nelson on one of those automobiles by fall if he keeps up his great batting record.

Ed Killian, the once famous left hander, who won many a game for the Detroit Tigers, has been given his unconditional release by Buffalo.

Promising Young Pacer Is Dead

Mallow's Wreath, a splendid young pacer of great promise, owned by Carl Mallow, died at the barn on the fair grounds Wednesday evening after being sick for some little time, and with its death one of the most promising pacers in the state passed out of existence.

A number of veterinarians had been called in to assist in saving the valuable animal, and everything known to the profession was done without avail.

The animal was valued at $3,000 or better, and so far as known there was no insurance.

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

LEIFIELD EARNS HIS SPURS

In First Game With Cubs Former Pirate Twirler Holds Brooklyn to Four Measly Hits.

Lefty Leifield, until recently a Pirate, did himself handsome in his debut as a member of the Cub team. Lefty gave Brooklyn a little impersonation entitled "Stingy," and the Dodgers agreed unanimously that as an impersonator Lefty ought to get big money on the vaudeville circuit when he gets through with baseball.

Lefty held the easterners to four measly bingles and whipped them, 7 to 2.

Leifield never was in trouble if you can forget the first inning, when a base on balls was followed by a double.

"Lefty" Leifield.

ble, which, in turn, was trailed by a single, scoring two runs. After that the Dodgers were easy picking, and whenever things looked the least bit dangerous Lefty closed up on them. He only resorted to strikeouts once, and that was when there were two men on and none out, showing that he was confident of himself all the way.

Sykes Misses a Game.

The game at Mobile between the Crackers and Gulls on May 5 was the first regularly scheduled game Earl Sykes has missed in three years where his own club was playing. In 1910 he went through the entire season with the Dayton Central League club without missing even one inning, and last year he went through every inning of each game played by the Crackers without missing and played 17 games this season before a split finger forced him from the line-up. In all, Sykes participated in 300 successive games without missing an inning.

Another Walter Johnson.

There is another Walter Johnson appearing in the offing. He is captain of a Youngstown, O., high school team, where he has made a great record. He graduates there this year and goes to Harvard and his admirers say it is from the college diamond to the big league sure.

Scattering Notes of the Diamond

Atlanta has released Pitchers Paige and Johns to Montgomery.

Larry Cheney is proving himself more than a flash in the pan.

Connie Mack evidently has picked up another star in Pitcher Pennoch.

Van Dyke, Worcester's star pitcher, will join the Boston Americans in the fall.

Toledo has Hohnhorst batting way down in the list, ahead of catcher and pitcher.

Red Kuhn looks like the white hope of the Sox catching staff in these days of hospital squads.

Cap Anson is arranging to gather a team of Indians from Minnesota and go on tour this summer.

"Jeff" Pfeffer, the former Chicago-Boston pitcher, is managing a team in the Greater Boston league.

The Dodgers are only saved from last place because they can't lose quite as often and consistently as Boston.

Lelivelt, whom Clark Griffith sent to the minors, is leading the International league with a batting average of .405.

Harry Howell, until recently on President Barrow's umpire staff, has caught on as an umpire in the Texas league.

The veteran manager and player, Bill Carney, has put in an application with President Chivington for a job as umpire.

Harry Mace, umpire in the Virginia league, has a son catching for a team in the circuit. If son should attempt to sass dad, would the umpire use a shingle?

New Orleans has sold Catcher Lee Lemon, secured from Birmingham, to Fort Worth and again taken on Nagelson, who had been returned to Toledo. Lemon could hit, but could not throw.

PITCHERS CAN'T MAKE GOOD

Miserable Exhibition of Cincinnati Twirlers Has Been Great Disappointment to Fans.

The great disappointment of the Cincinnati Reds this year has been in the pitching staff and Manager O'Day's fingers, taking them as a whole, are putting up the most miserable exhibition in the National league, their failure having practically killed the hopes of Red fans for a look-in at the pennant. One of the big disappointments has been Pitcher Harry Gaspar. The Iowa photographer started off well, but recently has joined his fellows on the pitching staff in boosting batting averages of opponents, says the Detroit Journal. O'Day now hopes to make a trade for him and it is possible that Gaspar in new company will recover some of his old prowess.

Harry Gaspar.

Among the Baseball Players

Griffith is the Sherlock Holmes of the coaching box on balks.

Hank O'Day is still looking for pitchers to brace up his dilapidated staff.

Pitcher McTigue has been released by Johnny Kling of the Boston Braves to Buffalo.

Pitcher Sam Frock, recently turned loose by Baltimore, has been taken on by Kansas City.

Pitcher Walter Miller has been sold to the Elmira club of the New York State league by Atlanta.

With Brooklyn and Boston at the bottom of the percentages that old column looks natural again.

Cub fans would appreciate it if Cheney pitched as well with none on bases as he does with the sacks crowded.

Hugh Kellackey, manager of the Boise team, who died recently, was a brother-in-law of Bill Bradley of Toronto.

Toronto sells Jim McGinley to Wilkesbarre and Ed Winters to Binghamton, both in the New York State league.

The reputation of pulling the unexpected has become the property of the White Sox as well as the Athletics this year.

Johnny Kling says that Bridwell is not through as a player, and that even if he were the Braves would keep him as a scout.

Heine Zimmerman will have a half nelson on one of those automobiles by fall if he keeps up his great batting record.

Ed Killian, the once famous left hander, who won many a game for the Detroit Tigers, has been given his unconditional release by Buffalo.

Promising Young Pacer Is Dead

Mallow's Wreath, a splendid young pacer of great promise, owned by Carl Mallow, died at the barn on the fair grounds Wednesday evening after being sick for some little time, and with its death one of the most promising pacers in the state passes out of existence.

A number of veterinarians had been called in to assist in saving the valuable animal, and everything known to the profession was done without avail.

The animal was valued at $3,000 or better, and so far as known there was no insurance.

the press stand, and Mr. Brisbane went on writing his piece.

The demonstration, now degenerating into disorder, had lasted 31 minutes. When it ceased, Judge Parker warned against the invasion of the press stand and admonished the people in the galleries to keep quiet. Mr. Peck then resumed his speech. Referring to the big majorities for Wilson in certain Ohio districts, he said: "He thought we were playing marbles for keeps, but it appears it was only for fun."

Mayor Newton L. Baker of Cleveland followed Mr. Peck for a 15-minute speech in defense of the rights of the Wilson delegates. He said he did not come to attack the unit rule. "I come," he said, "to vindicate the sovereignty of the state of Ohio and to defend her rights." Before Ohio got a preferential primary law the state convention was the highest authority in selecting delegates, he said, but when the legislature restored to the people the right of self-government, it made the people of each district the sole authority in selecting the delegates from the districts.

"I want to argue this case," he went on, "as a lawyer and win it on its merits."

Waving his credentials from the secretary of state he shouted: "If there had never been a state convention I would still be here with all my authority." This brought more applause.

Moore Speaks.

Commissioner of Insurance E. H. Moore of Youngstown, O., speaking on the unit rule, was booed when he announced that the minority were "speaking for a principle supreme." A moment later he got a laugh when he said: "Mayor Baker says he was instructed by the people of the district. Nothing of the sort. No one ran against him."

The crowd was getting tired and men and women left the galleries. Delegates also moved towards the doors. This aroused Judge Parker to request that people keep their seats while Mr. Moore was talking. He added: "We will give you a chance when he is through."

Senator John Sharp Williams got the attention of the audience at once, only to be interrupted by Governor Brewer of Mississippi, who asked this question:

"Do I understand you to say that the delegates should vote as instructed at the primary or elected by the convention? My question is, 'Who got the primary vote in Ohio' (meaning Harmon)."

"Very childish," was the response of Senator Williams. He said that personally he was for one presidential candidate, but he was instructed for another and he would vote for the candidate for whom he was instructed until he was released by that candidate, meaning Wilson. The Mississippi senator warned the delegates by saying that if they endorsed the majority report they would do "the most dangerous and most damnable thing of the age, and there was no such thing as popular government."

The delegates were eager for a vote and broke into disorder. They were yelling to the chairman that they didn't want to waste all night over speech-making.

A delegate fired a question at Parker and held the floor until he got recognition. He demanded to know what was the substance of the call for the primaries in Ohio. While they were looking this up, Representative Lunn of Nebraska took up the fight to bust the unit rule wherever it conflicts with the laws of a state.

Shouts rose from all over the hall. "Vote, Vote, Vote." Parker slammed down his big gavel. Mr. Henry was up for the last crack at the unit rule, but they were weary with oratory. Henry was brief, however. Judge Moore appeared as the last champion of the unit rule. It was announced that he had five minutes. "Make it two," yelled a delegate.

Judge Parker then put the question on the adoption of the minority report.

As the voting proceeded it was evident that the old unit rule was in danger. States which had rebuked Bryan either supported the minority report or split their delegations. The roll call proceeded amid disorder.

When Leader Murphy cast New York's 90 votes against the minority report he was hissed and booed.

Even in Ohio a Harmon delegate left his crowd and voted to knock out the unit rule. Pennsylvania boosted the minority cause with 65 votes.

Interest in Roll Call.

Visitors were manifesting intense interest in the roll call. The cheers and hissing as the states plumped their votes one way or another could hardly have been exceeded if the convention had been picking a candidate.

For the first time there was a majority against the unit rule, when Texas slammed 40 votes for the minority report.

There was a row in the Virginia delegation over the polling of the vote and a Texas Wilson delegate shouted:

"Oh, send Ryan home." Judge Parker announced the vote as, yeas 555½, noes 459 2-6, and instantly there was an outburst of cheering which swept the crowd. There was no doubt but that the result was popular.

After the convention had taken 19 delegates from Harmon, Joseph A. Bell of Indiana, chairman of the credentials committee, reported that Roger Sullivan's delegates had been seated for Illinois. The Harrison Hearst delegates were turned down. The sitting delegates from the Seventh Pennsylvania district were not seated.

The delegates are anxious to go home, and finally it was decided to hold the session at noon today. The convention adjourned at midnight.

CROWD WAS WEARY

Orators Cut Loose While Waiting For Committee Reports.

Baltimore, June 27.—A flood of oratory buried the delegates to the Democratic national convention under rhetorical waves.

When the prayer by Right Rev. John G. Murray of Baltimore, was concluded, Governor Blanchard of Louisiana reported that the credentials committee would not be ready to report until 8 p. m. He said he would not make a motion to adjourn until that time, however, as he was sure the delegates would like a little oratory. Former Governor Joseph W. Folk of Missouri was introduced as the first speaker.

"The nominee of this convention will be the next president of the United States," said Folk. He eulogized Bryan at length. The delegates grew restless in the course of Folk's speech and Chairman Parker was forced to admonish them to be quiet.

Senator Rayner of Maryland next was called on. He also predicted success for the Democratic nominee and discussed the division in the Republican party and declared that the motto of the Taft faction would be, "we will react and retrograde." The motto of the Roosevelt party he quoted as "thou shalt not steal."

"Our motto in this campaign will be 'we shall progress,'" shouted Senator Rayner and the crowd cheered.

When Senator Rayner concluded Chairman Parker asked for more speakers. A shout for Congressman Tom Heflin of Alabama went up from the floor, but Parker introduced Congressman Henry D. Clayton of Alabama, chairman of the house judiciary committee.

After he had spoken for several minutes in denunciation of Republican

JOSEPH W. FOLK.

Former Governor of Missouri, prominent at Democratic Convention, principles and predatory wealth. Mr. Clayton turned to Democratic prospects.

"I do not know upon whom the nomination of this convention will fall," he said.

"Underwood," shouted an Alabama delegate.

"Clark," shouted a man from Missouri.

"Wilson," came in answering chorus from New Jersey.

"Harmon," called the Ohioans.

In a moment the entire convention hall was swept by the shouts and cheers and songs of the adherents of the different candidates. The band joined in the demonstrations and Chairman Parker made little effort to quiet the enthusiasts. A melody of southern airs from the band brought increasing cheers.

Some of the delegates attempted to uproot the state standards, but the tion lasting 20 minutes. However this demonstration is not all Wilsons', being shared by all candidates. Delegates stand on chairs and yell themselves hoarse. Galleries unfurl banners with pictures of candidates and mottoes. Banners carried around floor of hall by delegates for Wilson, Underwood, Clark and Baldwin.

Mrs. Perry Clemens of Hamilton, Kansas, tried to repeat Mrs. Davis' stunt in Chicago, and carry Clark pictures to platform, but sergeant-at-arms stops her. Roosevelt song distributed about hall from Pennsylvania delegation.

Lines Are Breaking.

In south and west gallery sixty mouths give Princeton yell and sing "Wilson, Wilson, Wilson". At 2:30 the roll call is ordered on South Dakota contests, order having been restored. Wilson delegates from South Dakota win the contest. Learned that Illinois contest will be abandoned. Hearst is losing control of State to Sullivan. Vote on permanent chairman is next business.

Wilson wins the South Dakota contests by a margin of 224 1-2 votes. Official vote is 639 1-2 to 415.

Philippines Barred.

Later—Report of permanent organization committee adopted. Ollie James delivering address.

Later—Before seating James at 3:03 o'clock, John Sharp Williams rising to a point of order argues that the Philippine Islands are not a part of the United States under Supreme court decision, and not entitled to vote for president. Delegation thrown out by viva voce vote.

It is asserted on good authority that Gaynor will not get New York's ninety votes on first ballot, but they will go to Dix or Harmon. Delegation will convene hour and a half before night session.

Floor speaker for New York will be Attorney General Carmody. James address as permanent chairman received well by delegates who applauded frequently. Said "Wool trust stands hidden behind veto of President Taft." "I believe Roosevelt was right when he said that he made a mistake nominating Taft, but I believe American people would make a bigger mistake by choosing a man who makes mistakes." Mention of Bryan starts applause lasting several minutes. Address favored direct election of senators, publicity of campaign contributions, income tax, attacked tariff board and said, "Put criminal trust officials in jail".

The Convention adjourned until eight o'clock tonight.

police men, by quick work, prevented this. One man opened a big umbrella and started a parade, but was headed off.

Mr. Clayton at last made himself heard above the din. He declared that, whoever the candidate was, he would be the next president of the United States.

State Chairman Reilly of Massachusetts was next introduced and spoke briefly on general issues, making a plea for legislation for the betterment of labor, and concluding with an endorsement of Clark.

A round of cheers greeted Senator Gore of Oklahoma, who was next introduced. The blind statesman was unable to proceed with his speech for some time because of the uproar.

"Let us have peace," said Mr. Gore, in the course of his talk. "Let us have peace at any price, any sacrifice save that of honor. Let us here put every Democrat under bonds to keep the peace." A burst of applause greeted this sentiment.

"Nothing can save the Republican party from self-slaughter except Democratic suicide," declared Gore. "We can not live half progressive and half reactionary. Theodore Roosevelt endeavored to breathe the breath of life of modern progress into the petrified remains of the Republican party. He failed. The mummy would not move."

John Temple Graves came next on the long list of orators, and Former Governor James E. Campbell, who denounced the Republican party with the greatest vigor, was the last speaker.

Senator-elect Ollie James of Kentucky, a Bryan man, was selected by the committee on organization for permanent chairman. His election will not be opposed.

RADICAL PLANKS

In Draft of Platform Submitted by
New York Delegates.

Baltimore, June 27.—At the caucus of the New York delegation a draft of a platform was submitted to the committee on resolutions of the convention. The platform proposed by the New York leaders is so radical it was said that even Mr. Bryan might consider certain things in it objectionable. Among other things it provides for a reduction of the tariff; renounced President Taft for vetoing the cotton, woolen and chemical schedules; opposes the establishment of central banks; favors an income tax, direct primaries for senators and fixing of the presidential term at six years.

the press stand, and Mr. Brisbane went on writing his piece.

The demonstration, now degenerating into disorder, had lasted 31 minutes. When it ceased, Judge Parker warned against the invasion of the press stand and admonished the people in the galleries to keep quiet. Mr. Peck then resumed his speech. Referring to the big majority for Wilson in certain Ohio districts, he said: "He thought we were playing marbles for keeps, but it appears it was only for fun."

Mayor Newton L. Baker of Cleveland followed Mr. Peck for a 15-minute speech in defense of the rights of the Wilson delegates. He said he did not come to attack the unit rule. "I came," he said, "to vindicate the sovereignty of the state of Ohio and to defend her rights." Before Ohio got a preferential primary law the state convention was the highest authority in selecting delegates, he said, but when the legislature restored to the people the right of self-government, it made the people of each district the sole authority in selecting the delegates from the districts.

"I want to argue this case," he went on, "as a lawyer and win it on its merits."

Waving his credentials from the secretary of state he shouted: "If there had never been a state convention I would still be here with all my authority." This brought more applause.

Moore Speaks.

Commissioner of Insurance E. H. Moore of Youngstown, O., speaking on the unit rule, was booed when he announced that the minority were "speaking for a principle supreme." A moment later he got a laugh when he said: "Mayor Baker says he was instructed by the people of the district. Nothing of the sort. No one ran against him."

The crowd was getting tired and men and women left the galleries. Delegates also moved towards the doors. This aroused Judge Parker to request that people keep their seats while Mr. Moore was talking. He added: "We will give you a chance when he is through."

Senator John Sharp Williams got the attention of the audience at once only to be interrupted by Governor Brewer of Mississippi, who asked this question:

"Do I understand you to say that the delegates should vote as instructed at the primary or elected by the convention? My question is, 'Who got the primary vote in Ohio' (meaning Harmon)."

"Very childish," was the response of Senator Williams. He said that personally he was for one presidential candidate, but he was instructed for another and he would vote for the candidate for whom he was instructed until he was released by that candidate, meaning Wilson. The Mississippi senator warned the delegates by saying that if they endorsed the majority report they would do "the most dangerous and most damnable thing of the age, and there was no such thing as popular government."

The delegates were eager for a vote and broke into disorder. They were yelling to the chairman that they didn't want to waste all night over speech-making.

A delegate fired a question at Parker and held the floor until he got recognition. He demanded to know what was the substance of the call for the primaries in Ohio. While they were looking this up, Representative Lunn of Nebraska took up the fight to bust the unit rule wherever it conflicts with the laws of a state.

Shouts rose from all over the hall. "Vote, Vote, Vote." Parker slammed down his big gavel. Mr. Henry was up for the last crack at the unit rule, but they were wearied with oratory. Henry was brief, however. Judge Moore appeared as the last champion of the unit rule. It was announced that he had five minutes. "Make it two," yelled a delegate. Judge Parker then put the question on the adoption of the minority report.

As the voting proceeded it was evident that the old unit rule was in danger. States which had rebuked Bryan either supported the minority report or split their delegations. The roll call proceeded amid disorder.

When Leader Murphy cast New York's 90 votes against the minority report he was hissed and hooted.

Even in Ohio a Harmon delegate left his crowd and voted to knock out the unit rule. Pennsylvania boosted the minority cause with 65 votes.

Interest in Roll Call.

Visitors were manifesting intense interest in the roll call. The cheers and hissing as the states plumped their votes one way or another could hardly have been exceeded if the convention had been picking a candidate.

For the first time there was a majority against the unit rule, when Texas slammed 40 votes for the minority report.

There was a row in the Virginia delegation over the polling of the vote and a Texas Wilson delegate shouted:

"Oh, send Ryan home."

Judge Parker announced the vote as, yeas 555½, noes 459 2/3, and instantly there was an outburst of cheering which swept the crowd. There was no doubt but that the result was popular.

After the convention had taken 15 delegates from Harmon, Joseph A. Bell of Indiana, chairman of the credentials committee, reported that Roger Sullivan's delegates had been seated for Illinois. The Harrison Hearst delegates were turned down. The sitting delegates from the Seventh Pennsylvania district were not seated.

The delegates are anxious to go home, and finally it was decided to hold the session at noon today. The convention adjourned at midnight.

CROWD WAS WEARY

Orators Cut Loose While Waiting For Committee Reports.

Baltimore, June 27.—A flood of oratory buried the delegates to the Democratic national convention under rhetorical waves.

When the prayer by Right Rev. John G. Murray of Baltimore, was concluded, Governor Blanchard of Louisiana reported that the credentials committee would not be ready to report until 8 p. m. He said he would not make a motion to adjourn until that time, however, as he was sure the delegates would like a little oratory. Former Governor Joseph W. Folk of Missouri was introduced as the first speaker.

"The nominee of this convention will be the next president of the United States," said Folk. He eulogized Bryan at length. The delegates grew restless in the course of Folk's speech and Chairman Parker was forced to admonish them to be quiet.

Senator Rayner of Maryland next was called on. He also predicted success for the Democratic nominee and discussed the division in the Republican party and declared that the motto of the Taft faction would be, "we will react and retrograde." The motto of the Roosevelt party he quoted as "thou shalt not steal."

"Our motto in this campaign will be 'we shall progress,'" shouted Senator Rayner and the crowd cheered.

When Senator Rayner concluded Chairman Parker asked for more speakers. A shout for Congressman Tom Heflin of Alabama went up from the floor, but Parker introduced Congressman Henry D. Clayton of Alabama, chairman of the house judiciary committee.

After he had spoken for several minutes in denunciation of Republican principles and predatory wealth. Mr. Clayton turned to Democratic prospects.

"I do not know upon whom the nomination of this convention will fall," he said.

"Underwood," shouted an Alabama delegate.

"Clark," shouted a man from Missouri.

"Wilson," came in answering chorus from New Jersey.

"Harmon," called the Ohioans.

In a moment the entire convention hall was swept by the shouts and cheers and songs of the adherents of the different candidates. The band joined in the demonstrations and Chairman Parker made little effort to quiet the enthusiasts. A melody of southern airs from the band brought increasing cheers.

Some of the delegates attempted to unroof the state standards, but the tion lasting 20 minutes. However this demonstration is not all Wilsons', being shared by all candidates. Delegates stand on chairs and yell themselves hoarse. Galleries unfurl banners with pictures of candidates and mottoes. Banners carried around floor of hall by delegates for Wilson, Underwood, Clark and Baldwin.

Mrs. Perry Clemens of Hamilton, Kansas, tried to repeat Mrs. Davis' stunt in Chicago, and carry Clark pictures to platform, but sergeant-at-arms stops her. Roosevelt song distributed about hall from Pennsylvania delegation.

LINES ARE BREAKING.

In south and west gallery sixty mouths give Princeton yell and sing "Wilson, Wilson, Wilson". At 2:30 the roll call is ordered on South Dakota contests, order having been restored. Wilson delegates from South Dakota win the contest. Learned that Illinois contest will be abandoned. Hearst is losing control of State to Sullivan. Vote on permanent chairman is next business.

Wilson wins the South Dakota contests by a margin of 224 1-2 votes. Official vote is 639 1-2 to 415.

PHILIPPINES BARRED.

Later—Report of permanent organization committee adopted. Ollie James delivering address.

Later—Before seating James at 3:03 o'clock, John Sharp Williams rising to a point of order argues that the Philippine Islands are not a part of the United States under Supreme court decision, and not entitled to vote for president. Delegation thrown out by viva voice vote.

It is asserted on good authority that Gaynor will not get New York's ninety votes on first ballot, but they will go to Dix or Harmon. Delegation will convene hour and a half before night session.

Floor speaker for New York will be Attorney General Carmody. James address as permanent chairman received well by delegates who applauded frequently. Said "Wool trust stands hidden behind veto of President Taft." "I believe Roosevelt was right when he said that he made a mistake nominating Taft, but I believe American people would make a bigger mistake by choosing a man who makes mistakes." Mention of Bryan starts applause lasting several minutes. Address favored direct election of senators, publicity of campaign contributions, income tax, attacked tariff board and said, "Put criminal trust officials in jail".

The Convention adjourned until eight o'clock tonight.

policemen, by quick work, prevented this. One man opened a big umbrella and started a parade, but was headed off.

Mr. Clayton at last made himself heard above the din. He declared that, whoever the candidate was, he would be the next president of the United States.

State Chairman Reilly of Massachusetts was next introduced and spoke briefly on general issues, making a plea for legislation for the betterment of labor, and concluding with an endorsement of Clark.

A round of cheers greeted Senator Gore of Oklahoma, who was next introduced. The blind statesman was unable to proceed with his speech for some time because of the uproar.

"Let us have peace," said Mr. Gore, in the course of his talk. "Let us have peace at any price, any sacrifice save that of honor. Let us here put every Democrat under bonds to keep the peace." A burst of applause greeted this sentiment.

"Nothing can save the Republican party from self-slaughter except Democratic suicide," declared Gore. "We can not live half progressive and half reactionary. Theodore Roosevelt endeavored to breathe the breath of life of modern progress into the petrified remains of the Republican party. He failed. The mummy would not move."

John Temple Graves came next on the long list of orators, and Former Governor James E. Campbell, who denounced the Republican party with the greatest vigor, was the last speaker.

Senator-elect Ollie James of Kentucky, a Bryan man, was selected by the committee on organization for permanent chairman. His election will not be opposed.

RADICAL PLANKS

In Draft of Platform Submitted by New York Delegates.

Baltimore, June 27.—At the caucus of the New York delegation a draft of a platform was submitted to the committee on resolutions of the convention. The platform proposed by the New York leaders is so radical it was said that even Mr. Bryan might consider certain things in it objectionable. Among other things it provides for a reduction of the tariff; denounced President Taft for vetoing the cotton, woolen and chemical schedules; opposes the establishment of central banks; favors an income tax, direct primaries for senators and fixing of the presidential term at six years.
